La. Spending Will Reach An All-Time High

BATON ROUGE, Aug. 9 (AP)—An independent research group said today Louisiana state spending will total 655.3 million dollars this fiscal year, an all-time high, and mean an operating deficit of 27.6 million.

The Public Affairs Research Council said, if revenue equal estimates, this would trim surpluses to 24.6 million next June 30. PAR included federal funds and revenues disbursed to local governments.

State fiscal officers predict, unless more revenues are found, Louisiana will be 86 million dollars short of meeting its spending obligations for the fiscal year starting next July 1.

Lt. Gov. Lether Frazar called Thursday for establishment of a commission to reorganize state spending

Recommendations

In its final legislative bulletin on the 1957 fiscal Legislature, PAR recommended:

1. Close scrutiny of all state spending and possible re-evaluation of some spending policies.
2. Encouragement of local government to take over greater responsibility for financing governmental services.

Gov. Earl Long, at his press conference Tuesday, suggested more local taxes might be required to continue services now provided by the state.

"It'll probably be next year before we can see just what will be needed," he said. "If the oil industry continues to be curtailed it could be the people will be forced to tax themselves higher locally. That's the way they do it in Texas and other states where they talk about the low state taxes."

Local Responsibility

PAR said high state taxes pointed to the need for greater responsibility by local governments. Roughly three dollars in state taxes are collected for every dollar of local taxes in Louisiana.

"Some shift in financial responsibility to the local level should precede any consideration of increased state taxes," PAR said.

A declining market has forced a 200,000 barrel per day slash in oil production allowables since last March, resulting in a $50,000 per day drop in severance tax collections.

Highways, welfare and all branches of education absorb 490.6 million dollars of the 655.3 total

Youths Accept Invitation To Tour Red China

MOSCOW, Aug. 9 (AP)—About two score Americans attending Moscow's World Youth Festival — all aware of State Department opposition—today accepted invitations to visit Red China.

They plan to leave Moscow for Peiping shortly after the festival winds up Sunday.

Fifteen Americans including eight members of the group's administrative committee, will make the three-week trip with expenses paid as guests of Premier Chou En-lai's government.

$100 Token

The others will be asked to pay a token $100 each for transportation to and from China and for all expenses of their tour.

While this group looked forward to the long journey east, one of the 150 Americans participating in the Moscow festival appeared on the verge of defecting to the Soviet Union.

A dependable source said defection was planned by a World War

Syria Expects Swap With Reds

CAIRO, Aug. 9 (AP)—A Syrian source said today Syria expects to get 2 small submarines and 6 torpedo boats from Russia as part of a new aid agreement signed this week in Moscow. Syria's ally Egypt got three Soviet submarines recently.

The Syrian source said the new Moscow agreement provides that Syria can defer payment for an unspecified time.

Moscow announcements of the aid agreement signed Tuesday did not mention arms. They told only of a wide range of Soviet economic and technical assistance to Syria.

The Syrian informant here said the pact called for Soviet technical and economic aid to Syria totalling 66 to 100 million dollars.

AT RACKETS HEARING

Big Sell-Out Price Blamed On Dio

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 (AP)—The Senate Rackets Committee was told today that the old AFL Auto Workers let gangster Johnny Dio Dioguardia and two others set $396,000 as their price for leaving the union.

AT LABOR PROBE — Earl Heaton, retiring head of the Allied Industrial Workers, testified yesterday before the Senate rackets investigating committee. He told of paying Johnny Dio $16,000, an amount which Dio said was due him. (AP Wirephoto) (See Story)

Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy thus summed up the evidence just before the senators recessed their hearing for the weekend. The committee is investigating allegations of improper labor-management activities.

Heaton Testifies

The last witness was Earl Heaton, outgoing president of the Allied Industrial Workers (AFL-CIO), the new name of the Auto Workers.

Heaton testified that Anthony Doria, ousted secretary-treasurer of the Allied Industrial Workers, was promised $80,000 if he got out of the union. Doria was involved in welfare fund scandals.

Actually Doria has received only $25,000, plus a union-owned Cadillac, Heaton said, and he is suing to collect on union notes for the balance.

Dio Got $16,000

Heaton told the investigators Dio got $16,000 when he left the old union in 1954. It was also testified that Angelo Inciso was allowed to take along a Chicago local with assets of $300,000 when he departed under fire from the UAW.

The committee has produced evidence that Dio, while ostensibly out of the union, retained a

CHALLENGE GOP

Civil Rights Bill Backed In House

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 (UP)—House Democratic leaders endorsed the Senate's modified civil rights bill today and challenged GOP congressmen to help push it to passage. They said the alternative might be no bill at all.

Republican leaders promptly spurned the strategy, insisting that the issue should be sent to a House-Senate conference committee to hammer out a "genuine civil rights bill" as demanded by President Eisenhower.

The conflicting stands touched off a series of angry partisan exchanges and raised sharp doubt about the next step in the seven-month struggle.

Rayburn Breaks Silence

The Republicans said the Democrats had the votes to act on the bill and the outcome was up to them. Democrats retorted that the Republicans were guilty of obstructionist tactics and were willing to "sacrifice the Negro right to vote on the altar of politics."

Speaker Sam Rayburn (Tex.), touched off the verbal battle. He broke a long silence on the issue to announce that he would ask the House to approve the Senate bill

At that time he was pastor of the West Monroe First Methodist Church and was active in staging and advertising the big affair. IN CONFIDENTIAL CASE

Ex-Editor Says Publisher Wanted 'Whistling' Stories

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 9 (UP)—A former editor of Confidential magazine testified today that its publisher wanted "stories that would make readers whistle and say "we never knew that before."

Ex-editor Howard Rushmore of New York set the stage for the prosecution's effort to convict two Confidential movieland research aides on charges of conspiracy to commit criminal libel after attorneys had engaged in a chest-to-chest baseball umpire type argument over an unsuccessful attempt by teen aged idol Tab Hunter to escape a personal appearance at the trial.

Superior Judge Herbert V. Walker rejected a plea by Hunter's attorney that the actor's testimony would be irrelevant and immaterial."

Gives Trial Boost

But Rushmore, first hired in 1953 to write stories for Confidential and then its full-time editor in 1954, gave the trial promise of zest when he said the magazine's publisher, Robert Harrison, had explained to him that he wanted it to be "unique in the field of journalism — to tell the stories that other newspapers and magazines would not print."

"He (Harrison) said he wanted to expose injustices and corruption in government, to expose products harmful to the public and to print the antics of well-known people that Hollywood columnist refuse to print," Rushmore said.

Later, he said, Harrison told him he thought the magazine would sell better if it could be enlivened by more stories on movie celebrities.

Make 'em Whistle

"Harrison told me he thought the stories were too tame, and that he needed stories that would make readers whistle and say 'We never knew that before.'"

Rushmore, who is also an admitted ex - Communist, and one-time Daily Worker employe, said he was an investigator for the McCarthy committee in Washington when he first was approached. He said his specialty, after he broke with communism, was anti-Communist stories.

Defense attorney Arthur J. Crowley, who enlivened actor Hunter's efforts to escape testifying in a shouting, angry rhubarb with attorney Gilbert D. Seton, objected strenuously to Rushmore's testimony.

During a recess, Crowley told reporters outside the courtroom that Rushmore's testimony had "nothing to do" with the case involving Fred and Marjorie Meade, the two actually on trial as operators of Hollywood Research Inc., alleged listening post for Confidential.

Refugees Flee Area To Safety

By STANLEY MEISLER

LAKE CHARLES, La., Aug. 9 (AP)—Six weeks ago quiet people filled the shelters of Lake Charles. They were quiet because they were numb.

Again today, the shelters are filled with quiet people. But they are quiet because they are calm.

Death from hurricane Audrey brought numbness to the survivors of the Cameron area. Thousands trudged to the shelters, so shocked by their loss they could not feel it.

Bertha has brought them to the calm acceptance that evacuation is a new part of their lives.

A few hundred returned in recent weeks to the Cameron area and started to rebuild. Then yesterday the threat of hurricane Bertha filtered to the area. Unwilling to remain with death they trudged up to Lake Charles and its shelters.

Not Given Up

Only sheriff O. B. Carter and a dozen others stayed in the area.

Strangely, despite their bitterness, most refugees have not given up. The Red Cross has feared rehabilitation may become too tough now.

But a walk through Lake Charles High School, one of the shelters, allays that fear. Most will return to Cameron again.

"Well I guess so," said 48-year-old Joseph Nuduba when asked if he would go back. He was surprised by the question. It seemed so odd.

"I have my home there," was one unidentified woman's indignant answer to the question.

Disgusted

Mrs. Durphy Swire, 22, who was in her home when it floated three miles during hurricane Audrey, admitted she was disgusted at having to leave a second time. But she likely will return.

"I just hope it doesn't happen again," she said.

Only rarely did bitterness grow so strong an observer felt Cameron had lost one of its people.

"Oh, don't ask me any questions," one young woman said. "I am too nervous and disgusted to answer."

But the rest of the 260 at the high school seemed less nervous. They whispered to each other in French, they played cards, they fed their babies, they watched a movie about the circulatory system, they milled about, they slept.

Dulles Warns U.S. Won't Quit A-Weapons Tests

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles has sent word to the Kremlin that the United States will never agree to stop testing atomic weapons without a simultaneous agreement to stop making them.

American officials hope this reply to a Soviet inquiry will finally convince Soviet leaders that they have no prospect of winning American, or Western, acceptance of their test-suspension plan. Russia wants to call off tests for two or three years apart from any other step in disarmament.

Don't Know

Dulles and his associates would know better how to estimate Soviet reaction to the U. S. position on this point—and in fact, on a whole range of diplomatic questions—if they felt they knew who is really running Soviet foreign policy.

But the indentity of the mind behind Kremlin diplomacy is de-

Project Launched At Ft. Polk Event

FT. POLK, La., Aug. 9 (AP) — Ground-breaking ceremonies were held today for a 33 million dollar housing project on the base for military families and single personnel.

The Prichard Hills project, to contain 2,000 units, is scheduled for completion in 18 months.

Miss Carlotta Prichard of Washington, D. C., turned the first spade of dirt. The project was named for her father, the late Maj. Gen. Vernon Prichard, former World War II commander of the First Armored Division, now based at Ft. Polk.

Gov. Earl Long, who attended the ceremonies, called the project "one of the finest things that ever happened to our state."

FEAR HURRICANE—Cameron residents who left their homes early in fear of Bertha, second hurricane of the season, wait in refugee center at high school in Lake Charles for passing of storm. About 260 evacuees are quartered in gymnasium of school. Sheriff O. B. Carter ordered the area of Cameron evacuated Thursday. Meanwhile, Bertha showed some signs of losing her punch as she approached land. (AP Wirephoto)

Two Seriously Hurt In Crash Near Waverly

One of two cars travelling together at a high rate of speed yesterday afternoon collied with a pick-up truck near Waverly leaving four persons injured, two seriously.

Two Alto men who were in the pick-up truck. W. T. Sartor, Jr., 40, and D. R. Sartor, were brought to the St. Francis hospital by Gay's ambulance. W. T. suffered a fractured vertebrae, and D. R. received a broken leg and injured neck.

Two In Delhi Clinic

F. D. Shay of Route 1, Lake Providence, and Sunny Hale of Pioneer were taken to the Delhi clinic, where Hale was treated for lacerations on the head and body and bruises. Stitches were taken. Shay was not seriously injured, and was released from the clinic last night.

The mishap occurred when Shay and Hale, in a Ford, and Eugene Hale and Smoky Hale, in a Mercury, traveling west on Highway 80, came up behind the pick-up truck, two miles east of Waverly, investigating officers reported. Shay skidded about 240 feet, then his car rammed into the truck.

Driver Apprehended

Eugene Hale, driving the Mercury, continued on, but was apprehended later by the State Police, who investigated the accident.

Eyewitnesses said that the two cars were travelling at approximately 80 - 90 miles per hour when the crash occurred at 2:50 p.m. The truck was going less than 20 miles per hour it was reported.

Eugene Hale was charged with speeding. State Police said that the charges will not be complete until the outcome of the Sartors' injuries is learned.

Shay was charged with speeding and reckless driving.

3 Texans Trek L-o-o-n-g Trip The Hard Way

NEW YORK, Aug. 9 UP—Three determined Texans arrived in New York today the hard way. They made the 2,600 - mile trip from Houston by outboard motorboat.

The 10-day, 21-hour trip ended at 8:08 a.m. CST when a 17-foot open fiberglass boat, powered by two 35-horsepower engines, docked at a municipal float on the Hudson River at the lower end of Manhatten.

The three seagoing Texans — Henry Barnhouse, 39; Charles H. Neill, 45, and William Cloud, 50 — were greeted by city officials and a group of displaced Texans currently living in New York.

The three all are mechanical department employees of the Austin American and Statesman. They said they had hoped to reach New York last Monday but were slowed down by fog and storms.

NEAR FERRIDAY

Mother And Tot Drown In River

FERRIDAY, (Special)—A young mother and her five-year-old daughter drowned about 6 p.m. 12 miles north of here last night when the woman dived into the swift, choppy Mississippi River in an attempt to save her child who had fallen into the water while washing her hands.

The victims were listed as Mrs. Edna Short, about 25, and her daughter, Tommie, 5.

The woman's 12-year-old brother, Charles, narrowly escaped death when he plunged into the water in an effort to rescue the two. The boy pulled himself from the swift current and ran to the J. O. Truitt house for help when he realized that his attempts were useless.

Husband Across River

Coy Short, the husband and father, had gone across the river with Truitt to set some commercial fishing lines when the drowning occurred.

Mrs. Short and her three daughters, Shirley 4, Mary 7, and Tommie 5, along with her brother Charles, had borrowed some fish-

Showers Seen Over Weekend

Temperatures were up slightly yesterday in the Monroe area, with a high of 94 recorded, compared with Thursday's maximum of 92.

The minimum reading yesterday was 73. Thursday a low of 71 was registered.

Partly cloudy skies are forecast for today, with showers in the western portion of the state. Afternoon showers are also expected Sunday.

Ike Appoints Ex-Navy Man As Aid Head

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 (UP)—James H. Smith, Jr., Colorado rancher and former Navy official, was nominated by President Eisenhower today to succeed John B. Hollister as head of the big foreign aid program.

Hollister resigned as director of the International Cooperation Administration after serving nearly two and one-half years in the post. He notified the President on July 1 that he wished to leave.

Eisenhower also nominated Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. for re-appointment as head of the U. S. delegation to the United Nations with the rank of ambassador. James J. Wadsworth was renominated as the chief alternate to Lodge.

The President also sent to the Senate the names of other U. S. representatives, and alternates, to the 12th session of the United Nations General Assembly scheduled to convene in New York next month.

PRESIDENT TO VETO

U.S. White Collar Worker Given Annual Wage Hike

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 (AP)—An 11 per cent annual pay raise for the government's one million white collar workers was approved overwhelmingly by the House today despite President Eisenhower's opposition.

The measure was passed by a roll-call vote of 329-58. This was 71 votes more than would be needed to override the presidential veto predicted by some House leaders.

However, the measure must still be approved by the Senate. A bill providing for a 7½ per cent raise is pending in that chamber. The House batted down a proposal to limit its bill to 7½ per cent.

$530 Million

At 11 per cent, the increase figures out to be about 530 million dollars a year.

Eisenhower has taken a stand against a general pay increase for federal workers at this time. He said anything that could add to inflationary pressures should be avoided.

A move to take about 10,000 federal legislative and judicial employes out of the 11 per cent pay increase bill was defeated by a 126-114 teller vote. Members are not recorded by name on a teller vote.

Rep. Halleck of Indiana, assistant Republican floor leader, predicted the bill will be vetoed if it is sent to Eisenhower in its present form.

Rep. Murray (D-Tenn) predicted both this bill and a previous pay raise for postal workers "will never become law."

Refused To Send

Before the final roll call, the House refused 319-70 to send the white collar workers' measure back to committee.

The House has voted the postal workers a $546 across the board annual raise — about 12½ per cent—at a cost of about 317 million dollars. The Senate has not acted on this.

Halleck said that if both raises become law "there's no alternative but to call Congress back into session" and increase the debt ceiling.

The national debt ceiling is set by law at 275 billion dollars, but there have been several temporary increases in recent years to allow for Treasury borrowings.

Bakers said the raises were needed to keep up with the rising cost of living and the wages paid in private industry.

Bertha Takes Same Route As Audrey

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 9 (AP)—Tropical storm Bertha, no longer a hurricane, lost some of its strength and apparently would become even weaker as it continued to move over land in East Texas.

The New Orleans Weather Bureau had reduced Bertha from a hurricane to a tropical storm in its 7 p.m. (CST) bulletin.

The weather bureau's 10 p.m. advisory said Bertha had gradually lost force since moving inland. It located the storm about midway between Beaumont, Tex., and Lake Charles, La., and said it was moving northwestward about 12 miles per hour.

Bertha's highest winds were estimated at 50 miles per hour in scattered squalls extending out 50 to 100 miles from the center. The minimum velocity of a hurricane is 75 miles an hour.

Continues To Weaken

The weather bureau said Bertha would continue to weaken as it moved over land.

Earlier tonight, Bertha had crossed the path of its murderous sister of six weeks ago, hurricane Audrey. Weather forecaster G. L. Allen said Bertha crossed Audrey's path near Cameron, La., about 7 p.m. (CST).

In Lake Charles, Calcasieu Parish Sheriff Henry Reid said no damage was reported in his parish (county) or in any of the adjoining parishes.

He said he didn't think there was any because he would have received word of it.

The strongest winds were reported between Lake Charles and Cameron near Hackberry. Winds of 65 miles an hour were reported there.

Fewer persons apparently were in Bertha's way when it reached the Cameron area. Most coastal residents, their stubborness washed away by Audrey's tides, fled to higher grounds at first warning.

Television station KSLA of Shreveport, La., reported it lost contact with Cameron during a telephone recording at 7:42 p.m. (CST).

Newsman Paul Meighan said he had reached an unidentified Red Cross worker and was questioning him. Southern Bell Telephone Co. spokesmen in Lake Charles told him, he said, that the circuit to Cameron apparently had blown down.

Tents Blow Away

Meighan said the Red Cross man in Cameron told him before the line was servered that mess tents put up to serve workers rebuilding the devastated town had been blown away. Some of the new houses, he said, also had been damaged.

At 6 p.m., Sheriff Carter, who stayed behind with a few deputies and civil defense workers in the courthouse to ride out the storm, said the highest winds reported at Cameron were 35 miles an hour.

Carter said the area had heavy rains, but they were letting up.

Civil Defense authorities reported most lowland area residents along the upper Texas coast had been evacuated.

Mansfield Girl Burns To Death In House Fire

MANSFIELD, La. (AP) — A 19-year-old Ringgold girl burned to death early today as flames destroyed her brother's home in Mansfield.

The victim was Evelyn Jo Cook, sister of Dr. Fred Cook Jr., 29, of Mansfield. She was trapped in the upstairs bedroom of his two-story frame house, but Dr. Cook escaped. His wife and six-months-old daughter are visting in Greenwood, Miss.

The Cooks had just bought the house last month. The cause of the fire was not immediately determined.

Other survivors include Miss Cook's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cook Sr.

IN 1957

State May Spend $655.3 Million

BATON ROUGE, (Special) — Total state government spending for the current fiscal year is expected to reach $655.3 million, the Public Affairs Research Council (PAR) said today in its final Legislative Bulletin on the 1957 fiscal session.

If revenues equal estimates, this will mean an operating deficit of $27.6 million this fiscal year, plus $10.8 million for capital construction and other appropriations designated as non - recurring. The deficit will be met from surplus funds. Surpluses are expected to be reduced to $24.6 million at the end of the current fiscal year.

Including Federal Funds

The $655.3 million includes federal funds and takes into consideration expenditures of certain dedicated state revenues, such as aid to local governments, which are not listed as expenditures in the official state budget.

Aside from aid which may be received by the state in the event of a favorable decision by the U.S. Supreme Court on ownership of the tidelands, PAR said the fiscal outlook requires:

1. Close scrutiny of all state spending to achieve economies and possible re-evaluation of some spending policies.

2. Encouragement to local governments to take over greater responsibility for financing governmental services.

Outdated

PAR noted that some programs of the state government "were designed as depression measures" but have continued despite the state's economic growth.

Also, PAR cited the present high state taxes as pointing to a need for greater responsibility assigned to local governments. About $3 are collected in state taxes for every dollar of local taxes in Louisiana, and the state ranks first in the nation in the proportion of its personal income which is required for state taxes.

"Some shift in financial responsibility to the local level should precede any consideration of increased state taxes," PAR said.

Expected Increase

Expenditures for operating purposes from state revenues are expected to increase $105.1 million this fiscal year over the level of fiscal 1956.

A number of governmental functions are expected to increase expenditures from state funds this fiscal year by 30 per cent or more over the recurring level of the fiscal year ended June 30, 1956. Percentage and dollar increases were shown by PAR for these as follows:

Teacher salaries, up 73 per cent with increased funds of $24.4 million. Teacher and school employees retirement, up 40.6 per cent and $4.8 million. School lunch program, up 45.4 per cent and $4.6 million. Trade schools, up 42.2 per cent and $1.2 million. State colleges, up 36 per cent and $4.9 million. Old age assistance, up 34.4 per cent and $10.2 million. General welfare assistance, up 41 per cent and $1.6 million. Department of Public Safety, up 49 per cent and $1.3 million. Department of Public Works, up 35.1 per cent and $1.1 million. State Board of Health, up 35.5 per cent and $1 million.

PAR Reports

In reference to state revenues, PAR reported:

1. Total state income, including $136.9 million in federal funds, is expected to reach $616.9 million. This would be an increase of $32 million over last fiscal year and $92.4 million over the fiscal year ended June 30, 1956.

2. Income from state sources is expected to rise $14.7 million to a total of $480 million. The projected level is $45 million higher than for fiscal 1956.

3. An expected drop of $13 million this fiscal year in revenue from rentals and bonuses on state mineral leases is a primary factor in holding to $14.7 million the increased income from state sources.

Recurring Expenditures

Reporting on recurring expenditures from state revenues, excluding federal funds, PAR cited these spending figures for fiscal 1958:

1. Education—Total, $205.6 million, representing 40.5 per cent of expenditures from state revenues.

2. Welfare—Total, $65.2 million, representing 12.8 per cent of spending from state funds.

3. Highways—Total, $77 million in budget allocations, representing 15.2 per cent of state funds, assuming expenditures equal budget allocations. Highway expenditures in a single year may be more or less than budget allocations because of carry - over funds and the volume of work placed under contract.

Proposed total spending by the above three agencies, including federal funds, during fiscal 1958 will be as follows: education, $212.9 million, welfare, $151.8 million, and highways, $125.9 million. These three agencies will thus account for three-fourths of total state expenditures.

PARENTS' DAY

YMCA-YWCA Camp Ends; Awards Given In Ceremony

Nearly 225 parents and friends were present yesterday afternoon when the Twin Cities YMCA-YWCA Day Camp ended its fourth period with a Parents' Day Program.

Jimmy Harmon was selected most outstanding boys camper and Sharon Monroe was named most outstanding girls camper. Vernon McCoy and Mrs. A. E. Allen presented these campers with T-shirts in recognition of their achievements.

Jocko Holdsworth and Linda Masur were chosen as the most improved campers. Dr. N. L. Moncrief presented Jocko with an award, and Mrs. Sam Humphries gave Linda her award.

Best Group Named

Counselor Pat Jackson's group was selected as the best boys camping group. Members of that division were Stewart Causey, Brinson Miles, Barney Roberts, Larry Wood, Robert Sharp, Milburn Van Veckhoven, Michael Young, Butch Gardina, Max Dean and Jerry Kerrigan.

Counselor Gay Demmary's group was named best girls camping group. Her members were Nancy Edelman, Janelle Gattis, Susan Jacka, Sharon Marcovit, Jane Sherrouse, Deborah Slakter, Sally Sudduth, Betsy Taylor and Charlotte Howell. These best camping groups were presented awards by Mrs. E. O. Hinton and H. W. McSherry.

Riflery Awards

Boys riflery awards went to Johnny Massey, Allen Slakter, Johnny Watkins, Bill Gattis, Deno Kokinos, Milburn Van Veckhoven, Jimmy Kokinos, Grady Thompson and Wesley Roberson. Dr. D. L. Anderson presented these awards.

Girls receiving riflery awards were Gloria Stoddard, Sharon Marcovitz, Beverley Temple and Sharon Monroe. Mrs. Charles Chisholm gave these awards. Boys archery awards were presented by Sam Rubin Jr. to Truman Flynn, Steve Searcy, Ronnie Eaker, Terry Kincaid, Deno Kokinos, Larry Wood, Mike Funk, Denver McCarty and Chris Wood.

Girls archery awards, presented by Miss Bess Sharp, went to Martha McGough, Susan Jacka, Susan High and Arden Anders.

Swimming Awards

Minnow swimming awards went to Johnny Watkins, Jimmy Harmon, Bill Gattis, Crawford Plummer, Ronnie Haneline, Jay Inabnet, Phillip Grant, Ronnie Harbour, Donnie Beacht, Herman McGuire, Brinson Miles, Johnny Massey, Dale Young, Allen Slakter, Leonard Flynn, Mike Young, Martha McGough, Susan Jacka, Vicky MacKay, Katherine Shaver, Linda Silmon, Susan High, Arden Anders, Mary Katherine McGuire, Sharon Monroe, Laurel Sharp, Ann Sherrouse, Jane Sherrouse and Deborah Slakter.

Fish swimming awards were presented to Donnie Beacht, Roy Bonnette, Edmund Brown, Mac Brown, Milburn Van Veckhoven, Bill Kellogg, Tommy Kinkead, Herman McGuire, Brinson Miles, Susan High, Arden Anders, Sharon Monroe, Laurel Sharp, Ann Sherrouse and Jane Sherrouse.

Flying fish ,swimming awards went to Jimmy Kokinos, Rett Porter, Chuck Smith, Beverly Temple, Sally Breard, Arden Anders, Sharon Monroe, Laurel Sharp, Jane Sherrouse and Mary Lou Myatt.

Shark swimming awards were given to Beverly Temple, Sally Breard, Jimmy Kokinos, Rett Porter and Chuck Smith. All swimming awards were given by Bill Robinson and Mrs. Mary Webster.

Crafts Displayed

A display of crafts was arranged for the parents to see, and included bracelets and other items made by the campers.

The boys camp was divided into nine groups led by Counselors Terry White, George Riser, George Forman, Deyel Smith, Gary Futch, Pat Jackson, Ronald Spruell, Hershel Abbott and Johnny Emmons. Junior counselors were Harry McCullough, Larry McCullough, Mike Riley and Claude Beavers. Neil McDonald was program assistant and Tommy Caldwell was assistant program director. Assistant Aquatic Director was Frank Webb.

The girls camp was divided into four groups led by Counselors Gay Demmary, Charlotte Bruscato, Joy Goza and Lois Ann Morgan. Mrs. Mary Webster was assistant program director and aquatic director and Miss Bess Sharp was program director.

Camp Coordinator Charles A. Wood Jr. gave the welcome address at the Parents' Day Program, following which the board members and camp staff were introduced.

GLYNN GARDNER
New Band Director

New Winnsboro Band Director To Meet Group

WINNSBORO (Special) —Glynn Gardner, new Winnsboro High School band director, will be introduced to the Winnsboro band parents at a special meeting in the band room Monday at 7:30 p.m.

This special meeting has been called by Robert F. Mulhearn, president of the Winnsboro Band Parents Club, and Mulhearn urges every parent to be at the band room Monday night. Important business, which includes summer band camp and football programs, will be transacted.

Support Needed

President Mulhearn said that this year's edition of the Winnsboro Wildcat band, under the direction of this young director, should be the best ever produced by the Winnsboro High School but that the active support of all parents is needed.

Director Gardner has announced that band practice will begin Monday, and all members of the senior band should report to the band room with their instruments at 9 a.m.

Members of the high school junior band (7th and 8th grades) should report to the band room Wednesday at 11 a.m.

Southwest Denied Rate Hike Plea

WASHINGTON (Special) — The Federal Power Commission announced in Washington today that its presiding examiner, Daniel J. Kelly, has filed a decision disallowing four proposed natural gas rate increases amounting to $75,154 a year, filed by Southwest Gas Producing Co., Inc., and et al, of Monroe.

The proposed rates suspended by the FPC on November 2, 1955, and October 31, 1956, involved the sale of natural gas by Southwest to Texas Eastern Transmission Corp., of Houston, Tex., from the Unionville and Hico Knowles Fields in Lincoln Parish, La.

15 Year Contract

Southwest executed contracts with Texas Eastern for 15 years beginning November 1, 1952, to provide sales of gas at identical prices from both fields which began at 12.82 cents per 1,000 cubic feet for the first year and increased a fraction of one cent each year ending with 15.6917 cents per 1,000 cubic feet for the 15th year.

At the time of the initial filing August 30, 1954, the effected rate was 13.0251 cents.

The applicants contended that the small annual increases in price for the sale of their gas do not constitute changes in rates under the Natural Gas Act. The presiding examiner said the changes in rates involved subject to the provision of the act and the com provision of the act and the commissions regulation. "The very purpose of Sections 4 C, 4 D, and 4 E of the act would be thwarted if they could be evaded by agreement between the seller and buyer," the examiner said.

Inhufficient Evidence

Presiding Examiner Kelly said that therefore the Monroe applicants' contention must be rejected leaving for decision the only major issue presented by the FPC staff's motion to dismiss the preceeding upon the grounds that the evidence is insufficient to carry the burden of proof imposed upon the applicant.

The applicants contend that their proposed increases are just and reasonable because they "represent the fair field prices" in the same general area of production. The presiding examiner stated that on the basis of unconverted evidence the proposed increased rates are the same as legally effective rates paid by Texas Eastern for natural gas produced from the same general area.

The examiner further found that there is no affiliation between the applicants and Texas Eastern and that the contract resulted from arms - length negotiations. These findings, Presiding Examiner Kelly stated, standing alone, do not constitute a basis for concluding that the proposed rates are just and reasonable.

Examiner Kelly said that the Commission has quite definitely held that while relative to the issue, arms - length bargaining and fair field prices, do not suffice to sustain the burden of proof required. "When one seeks to have a rate increase he must establish the justness and reasonableness of the amount of the proposed rate, regardless of how small may be the difference between existing rate and proposed rate," the examiner concluded.

The presiding examiner ordered applicants to refund to Texas Eastern within 70 days the difference between the amounts collected under the rate of 13.4354 cents permitted by the commission to become effective under bond as of August 22, 1956, and the amount which would have been payable by Texas Eastern for gas purchased on or after that date at 13.2302 cents per 1,000 cubic feet which was effective on and prior to August 21, 1956, and which continued to be the lawful rate under this order together with interest at the rate of 6 per cent per year.

The decision is subject to review by the Federal Power Commission either upon a motion by parties to the proceedings within 20 days or upon the commissions on motion within 10 days thereafter. If no review is initialed the decision becomes final.

MAIDCO Makes Plans For Promotion And Advertising

Promotion and advertising programs of the Monroe Area Industrial Development Corporation, (MAIDCO), for the remainder of the year were approved at a meeting of the Public Relations and Information Committee here yesterday.

Briefly the plans will include: "A series of advertisements in national publications, featuring major industries in northeast Louisiana. These advertisements will highlight testimonials from the industries and photographs of plant facilities.

"An intensive development program which will be participated in by all communities throughout northeast Louisiana.

Industrialists' Tour

"A two-day tour of the Twin Cities by a group of Chicago industrialists. Primary objective of the tour is to give major industries an opportunity to personally investigate the numerous economic and industrial advantages of the Monroe area. The tour is planned for early spring."

In discussing a stepped-up development program, the commitee expressed its opinion that better results can be attained if all communities seeking industry will combine their promotion activities.

In this connection, Garland Shell chairman of the committee, stated: "If enough interest is shown on the part of small towns throughout the area we will recommend to MAIDCO'S board of directors that a town hall type of meeting be held in the near future, to be attended by leading citizens of all interested communities in northeast Louisiana for the purpose of discussing our mutual problems, and organizing to attract more industrial payrolls.

For Best Results

"We will attain our best results by coordinating our efforts and by the realization that what benefits one community will benefit all other communities in the trade area."

The committee heard MAIDCO's executive vice - president, Walter Koch, outline his plans to visit Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, Pa., to meet with representatives of major industries to determine their plans for future plant expansion.

The committee also reviewed advanced copies of the revised Monroe Area Economic and Industrial Survey which Koch said would be distributed to industries within the next few days.

Members of the committee include Garland Shell, Bill Parker, Jack Ansell, Lon Heuer, and Bill Hargiss.

Ryan Elected As President Of Chevrolet Firm

Thad J. Ryan Jr. is the new president of the Ryan-Polk Chevrolet firm, authorized dealer for Chevrolet in Monroe.

Other officers are Thad J. Ryan chairman of the board; W. B. Ryan, vice president, and Herbert L. Polk, treasurer.

Ryan Jr. becomes president with a background of experience which fully qualifies him for the position, according to a statement by the company.

Mississippi Native

A Mississippi native, he received his degree in business administration from the University of Mississippi. He received a commission as a second lieutenant in the U.S. Marine Corps, and served 14 months on foreign duty, returning as a Captain.

He lives on Island Drive with his wife, Cissy, and two children, Michael and Jerelyn.

Prior to his election as president, he served as vice-president and secretary of the company. Ryan was one of 52 men selected by the Chevrolet division of General Motors to attend a post graduate school of merchandising in Detroit. He graduated from the school with high honors.

He is a member of St. Paul's Methodist Church, the North Monroe Kiwanis club, Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Bayou DeSiard Country Club.

Evacuees From Cameron Arrive In Monroe Area

Monroe has become the evacuation point for hurricane refugees for the second time in six weeks.

Mrs. Wilmer Smith, her 4 - year-old daughter Linda Gay, and Mrs. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe LaBove, arrived here yesterday morning from the coastal town of Grand Chenier in advance of Hurricane Bertha, which is following the path Audrey took June 27.

All people along the coastal areas of Cameron, Grand Chenier, Creole and Holly Beach were warned of the approaching hurricane yesterday by Sheriff O. B. Carter. The Lake Charles and Sulphur high schools have been designated as the main points to house the evacuees.

Returned Home

Though their home was heavily damaged when Audrey struck six weeks ago, the Smiths and their daughter returned to Grand Chenier as did many of the other Cameron parish residents. Mrs. Smith's husband remained as a volunteer Red Cross worker to help move the people out of the threatened towns.

The entire population of the parish which has been placed at 3,000 had been evacuated this morning.

Mrs. Smith's family is staying with Dean W. M. Smith on Lakeshore Drive until it is possible for them to return to Grand Chenier. Dean Smith is affiliated with Northeast State College.

Six Persons Injured In 3 Auto Crashes

Six persons were injured in car accidents in Monroe between 3:20 p.m. and 7:45 p.m. last night.

Taken to St. Francis hospital shortly before 8 p.m. were Robert Lane, 15, of 713 Standifer, and Jo Ann Bagwell, 13, of 304 Georgia, who were injured in a collision between a car in which they were passengers and another auto driven by Joe Jenkins, 43, Negro of 761 Bryant street.

The mishap occurred in front of 1824 Milhaven road, when William Lane, Robert's twin brother, who was driving east, noticed Jenkin's car starting to pull out of a driveway.

Skids 162 Feet

Lane slammed on his brakes, skidded 162 feet, and turned sideways 30 feet before his car collided with Jenkin's auto, which was now going west on Milhaven the police stated.

The whole front of Jenkin's car, and the right side, left side, and rear end of the Lane car were smashed in.

Jenkins suffered a cut on his face but did not have medical aid.

Mulhearn's ambulance took Robert Lane and Miss Bagwell to the hospital, where each was admitted. The youth was suffering from shock, and Miss Bagwell received bruises in the wreck.

William Lane later was brought to the hospital and X-rayed for possible head injuries.

Burford Injured

At 3:20 p.m. Roy Burford, 17, of 207 N. Fifth street, West Monroe, suffered bruises to his hip, when he was injured in an auto accident.

Burford was a passenger in a car driven by Thomas H. Benton, 16, of 509 Bres street. Monroe police who investigated said that Benton apparently failed to stop at a stop sign at the intersection of North 14 and Adams street, and hit a car driven by Raymond D. Williams, 47, of 1102 S. Fifth street, who was going south on North 14 street.

Treated at Hospital

Burford was given emergency treatment at St. Francis hospital. The right front and side of the Benton car were extensively damaged, and the car was towed away. The left side of the Williams car was smashed in.

An 11-year-old Monroe girl suffered brush burns when she headed her bicycle into the path of a car at the intersection of Sara and Dickens streets at 6:20 p.m. yesterday.

Elaine Butler, 11, of 1911 Forsythe, was treated for the injuries by a private physician. Her bike collided with a station wagon being driven north on Sara street by Paul C. Betts of 1616 Frances Place.

Monroe police said the youngster was riding south on Sara street, on the wrong side of the street, when the bike went into the car's path.

Eight Sentenced By Judge Heard In Dist. Court

J. P. Griffith, accused of six counts of theft by check, pleaded guilty in Fourth District Court yesterday morning.

Judge Jesse S. Heard sentenced him to six months on each count, the sentences to run concurrently. Griffin cashed $29 worth of checks and received merchandise and cash for them.

Seven other men pleaded guilty to offenses and were sentenced.

Gets 15 Months

Dewey Smith, 59, was given 15 months in the Louisiana State penitentiary for theft of $75. Richard Rufus Harshman, 21, alias Dick Harshman, alias Slim Hart, charged with theft of a tire and wheel valued at $100, was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary.

Fined $300 or 90 days in jail were three men, who pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated. They were Jack Causey, Gardner H. Lemmons, and Joe O. Hobgood.

On charges of disturbing the peace, Charles E. Peavy and John D. Cullins each were fined $25 or 10 days in jail.

RUDOLPH IVANOVICH ABEL

TWO SENTENCED

Master Red Spy Held; Could Be Electrocuted

NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (UP)—Two members of Russia's espionage network were sentenced to five and one-half years in prison today. In another court, Soviet master spy Rudolf Ivanovich Abel was held without bail on charges that could send him to the electric chair.

Myra Soble, 52, and Jacob Albam, 64, members of a ring organized shortly after Pearl Harbor by her husband, Jack Soble, 53, could have received 10 years in prison or a $10,000 fine, or both.

Federal Judge Richard H. Levet trimmed the sentences because they have cooperated with the government. Sentencing of Soble was postponed until Sept. 18, because he is still testifying before a federal grand jury.

Abel Uncooperative

The three could have been executed if convicted on the peacetime espionage charge contained in the original indictment. After they agreed to talk, they were permitted to plead guilty to the lesser charge of conspiring with high Russian officials to obtain U. S. defense secrets.

In federal court in Brooklyn, meanwhile, the balding Abel, 55, the highest-ranking Russian spy ever indicted in this country, gave no sign that he would cooperate to escape a possible death sentence.

Abel refused to enter a plea to the indictment returned Wednesday in Brooklyn until he could obtain an attorney. Federal Judge Matthew Abruzzo granted the request and set another hearing for next Tuesday.

Held Without Bail

Abruzzo ordered Abel held without bail after Assistant U. S. Attorney William F. Tompkins said the spy would "flee the country" if given the chance.

Abel, who posed for nine years as an impoverished artist in Brooklyn, was ringed by five deputy marshals when led into the courtroom.

The indictment charged that Abel masterminded the operations of a ring that transmitted vital U. S. defense secrets to Moscow by short-wave radio and couriers. He was returned here Thursday from Texas where he had been awaiting deportation for illegally entering the country.

Arms Disarmament Plans By Russia, U.S. Reviewed

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

Are the Allies, by offering important concessions at the London disarmament conference, convincing the Russians that they will never react to any incident in such fashion as to risk atomic war?

If Russia is getting that idea, then a great part of the deterrent power of atomic weapons is being lost.

Russia armed the North Koreans and precipitated a serious war. She armed the Egyptians and created a serious crisis in the Middle East.

Now she is arming the Yemeni, who frequently attack the British in Aden.

Refrained From Use

The Allies reacted in Korea but carefully refrained from the use of nuclear weapons. Russia finally initiated a cease-fire, apparently convinced that such adventures might get her into serious trouble. She no longer seems convinced.

There is a considerable difference in the risk involved in providing arms to cause trouble between small countries, even in such an explosive area as the Middle East, and providing a small country with arms to be used against a great power.

The latter brings two great powers face to face in dangerous fashion.

Allies Recognize

The Allies have recognized this by including a ban on arms exports in their over-all disarmament package.

But Russia seems to feel she can continue taking such risks.

That means she believes any disarmament agreement would be a license for her to keep causing trouble, gradually eroding Western power in the world.

Regarding the maintenance of deterrent power by the West, there is only a thin line between convincing Russia that the Allies are truly interested in peace and convincing her that they would never drop the first bomb under any circumstances.

The former would at least remove one of the chief factors in Moscow's hostility, which is fear.

Victory Gamble

The latter would give her carte blanche in using the threat of force for diplomatic purposes, and in the long run might encourage her to gamble on victory before the Allies could react to surprise attack.

Secretary Dulles is right in claiming that the concessions offered by the West in order to establish zones of inspection to eliminate the possibility of surprise attack represent an historic effort.

Nobody has explained, however, why such inspection would work any better in large areas of the world than in the Communist-controlled zone of Korea where the Allies have dropped it entirely.

If such an agreement is reached for great areas of the world, and the Reds again scuttle it, the probability of war will become plainly evident, and the West will be face to face with the question of who is to drop the first bomb.

Louisiana Spoils Clouted

Louisiana's former spoils system, which flourished to a degree that attracted nationwide attention, at a time when the spoils system was common throughout the nation, has largely been routed and replaced by the constitutional civil service system set up in this state.

Some of the advantages of the present system have been pointed out by James M. Watson, executive secretary of the National Civil Service League; by Dr. L. Vaughn Howard in a volume entitled "Civil Service Development in Louisiana," and by Dr. W. W. Shaw. Dr. Howard is in the department of political science at Tulane University and Dr. Shaw is director of personnel for the department of civil service for the city of New Orleans. Louisiana Civil Service League files also supply much information.

Personnel-wise, the state has pulled itself up by its bootstraps since 1940. These 17 years have been notable for repeated clashes between the spoils system of the politicians and aggressive citizen action.

For a wasteful, inefficient patronage system dominated by arrogant politicians, Louisiana has substituted a modern merit system. Perpetuation of this system is insured by the state constitution and by effective citizen support of the merit plan.

In place of an army of low-paid, boss-ridden public workers, their numbers augmented before every election, at the cost of millions in tax money, Louisiana has substituted a system which is rapidly developing a public service based on proven competence and adequate pay and which is career-minded and free from political domination.

These changes have taken place as a result of citizen demand, made vocal through a citizens' organization, the Louisiana Civil Service League.

The Louisiana constitutional provision relating to the state of Louisiana civil service and the New Orleans civil service is extremely modern. This law has some unique and unusual features resulting from the experience of our citizens with the old spoils system era.

In order to protect the civil service system of Louisiana from control, the law provides an unusual method of appointing civil service commissioners.

The state of Louisiana civil service commission is composed of five members. These members are appointed by the governor from names submitted by presidents of five outstanding universities and colleges in Louisiana. These presidents nominate three persons each to the governor and the governor must, within 30 days, name as a member of the civil service commission one person from each list of three submitted by the university and college presidents. Each member serves a six-year term on a staggered basis, thus making it impossible for any large number to be appointed during the term of any one governor.

While the spoils system is not peculiar to Louisiana, our state, before the institution of civil service, experienced so many excesses that the government fell to a low repute in the minds of many citizens. The "Louisiana scandals" form a chapter of American history well known not only to local people but throughout the United States and around the world.

Since the establishment of the civil service system, the situation in regard to state employes has been relatively clean. There have been no "deducts" from state employes for political purposes. These employes have come to regard themselves as workers for the state and not for some particular political boss.

A complaint against the civil service system has been that it makes it too difficult to discharge an incompetent, disloyal or disobedient employe. Off-setting this charge is the argument that the number of incompetent or otherwise unsatisfactory employes under the civil service system is infinitesimal compared to the number hired under the spoils system.

Since the establishment of the civil service system, Louisiana has been free of any political scandal, the spoils system has been effectively lessened, if not entirely abandoned, and there has been less dissatisfaction on the part of the state employes and on the part of the voters and citizens.

Where There's Smoke

Since some physicians and some medical groups have issued statements saying that smoking is likely to cause lung cancer, heart trouble and other ailments this subject has been discussed freely by newspaper columnists and commentators.

There is one angle, however, on which we have seen no comment. That is the fact that life insurance figures show that the avearge life of a woman is between six and seven years longer than the average life of a man. Figures quoted by some of the physicians stated that the average life of a heavy smoker was about seven years less than that of a non-smoker. Between these two were the gradually shortened life of the light to heavy smoker.

It will be recalled that smoking among women was extremely rare until about 25 years ago. Women have been somewhere near on a par with men for 10 or 15 years. In fact, some of them outdo most men in the amount of smoking they do. The question now is, will the women's average drop down to that of the men because they smoke? This might be one way of settling the question of whether or not smoking is harmful.

At least half, if not most, of the newspaper commentators have upheld the cause of the smokers, arguing that there is no proof that smoking ever caused cancer. This may be true, as it is hard to prove what causes any sort of ailment, since some persons become ill under circumtances in which others remain healthy.

The heaviest smoker this writer ever noticed was really a deep dragger. He would inhale until his lungs were filled to capacity, taking a long, deep breath. Then smoke would pour out of his nose intermittently, as he breathed, for what seemed as long as five minutes. That was a good many years ago.

Yes, he died of lung cancer, but who can say he would not have done so if he hadn't smoked?

GEORGE SOKOLSKY'S DAYS

Everybody Talks About High Taxes But Few Actually Want Reduction

Everybody talks about high taxes and that they should be cut. But who really wants taxes reduced? Does the farmer who gets a subsidy want taxes reduced? Does the airplane company that gets a subsidy want taxes reduced? Does the shipping company that not only gets a subsidy but sometimes even a monopoly want taxes cut? Does the manufacturer who gets a subsidy in the form of war orders and who is bailed out when he faces bankruptcy want taxes reduced? Does the worker whose pockets are full of inflated jingle money and who may face unemployment want taxes reduced? Do the vast horde of public workers, the bureaucracy, federal, state and municipal, want taxes reduced? What would they do for a living? Who really wants taxes reduced?

William Benton remarks on this subject most interestingly:

"In 1950, when I was the most junior member of the United States Senate, a big batch of Hoover Commission proposals came before the Committee on Expenditures, of which I was a member. To my surprise, many of these admirable proposals had no Senate champion. Perhaps because of my business background, these proposals appealed to me powerfully. I leaped into the breach, not, I like to believe, without some success."

Then he added:

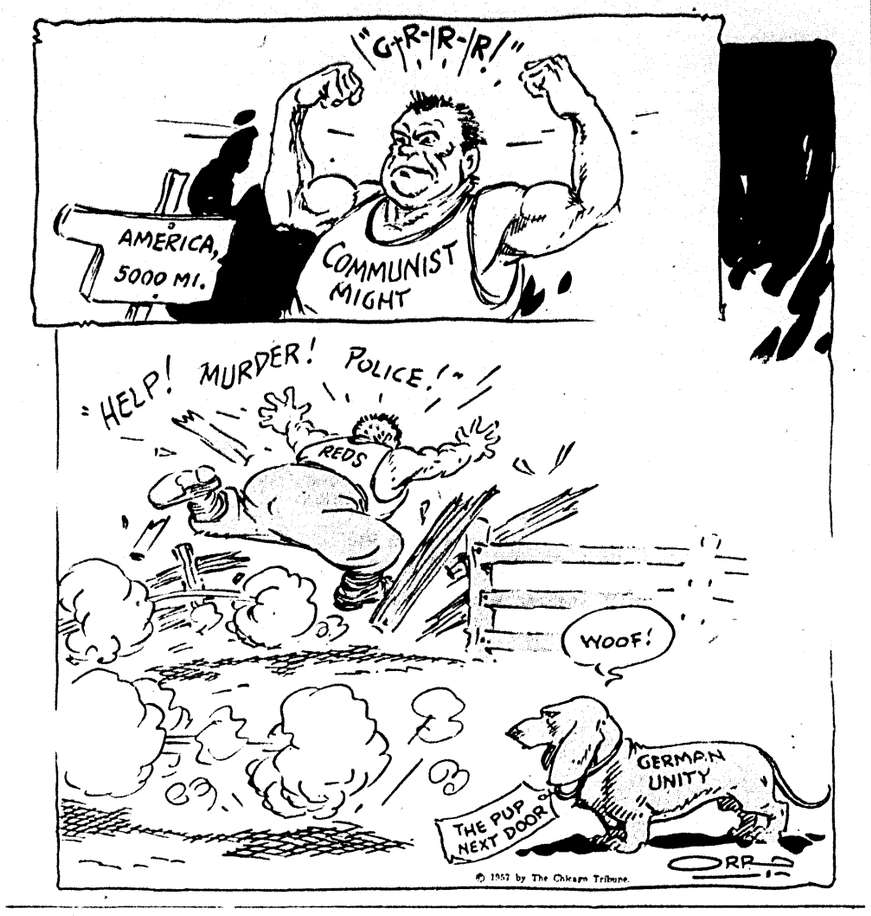
"The Senate had many able and dedicated men. Why had they not stepped forward? I quickly learned that, older and wiser than I, they knew there is almost no incentive for them in terms of popular support, meaning votes in the next election."

The Hoover proposals were made by two commissions, one appointed by President Truman, the other by President Eisenhower, the Vice President and the speakers of the House. The commissions were to recommend reorganization of the executive branch of the government, to improve it, make it more efficient, and to institute economies wherever possible. During the Truman administration, to which former Senator Benton refers, considerable progress was made, but not enough. During the Eisenhower administration practically nothing has been done, although a very emphatic Citizens' Committee engages in a propaganda to arouse public sentiment for the Hoover economies.

But who wants these economies? Certainly not the large number of effective pressure groups organized by every industrial, trade and particular activity association in the country. They each want economies for the other fellow, but as for themselves, they are indispensable and everything they do themselves is pro bono publico, even if it costs more than it should and adds to the velocity of the inflation. Do all those who are agitating for dams and roads and public power want economy too?

The Du Pont decision of the Supreme Court, the one to which the public has paid the least attention, is the most serious in many years because it definitely reaffirms the principle that monopolies are intolerable in American life, and that the investment of one company in another must not be used to control the sale of the products of another or to use them preferentially.

Long Range Courage; Short Range Fear



BASCOM TIMMONS

Washington Divided On Whether To Spend Money Fast As Appropriated

If you think you're slow at arithmetic, don't be discouraged. Just note the differences between the calculations of military expenditure made by President Eisenhower, Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson, the ranking members of the house appropriations committee and Comptroller General Joseph Campbell. The big question is whether it's cheaper to spend money as fast as it's appropriated or to carry unexpended balances of as much as 70 billion dollars.

The president and Campbell are on one side, Secretary Wilson and the ranking congressmen on the other. And General Eisenhower, irked by administration defeats on the school construction bill and the civil rights, is determined to have his way this time. He says that the accrued expenditure plan, which would eliminate appropriation carryovers, would be fine and might save the government several billions annually.

Similar claims are made for most legislative changes offered in congress, but this one originated in the Hoover commission report on budgeting and accounting which says it would save hundreds of millions a year at least.

And here is where your aptitude at arithmetic comes in. Should congress appropriate funds for an entire program such as 100 billion dollars worth of airplanes, at one stroke or should it make the funds available as they are needed? The first procedure has been in effect up to now. As a result there have been times when carryover balances amounted to as much as 70 billion dollars.

The Hoover commision, arguing that the accrual method of appropriation would place the government on the same operative system as private business and that state legislatures, operating on the two year plan, require unexpended balances to be turned back to the state treasuries at the end of that period, found its proposal rebuffed by the powerful house appropriations committee. In addition to Chairman Clarence Cannon (Dem. - Mo.) and former Chairman John Taber (Rep. N. Y.), Rep. George H. Mahon (Dem. - Tex.) chairman of the defense appropriations subcommittee, rapped the proposed changes.

Mahon, whose subcommittee handles more than half the whole 70 billion dollar budget in its consideration by the house, says that the Hoover commission claim that accrual system would save 4 to 5 billions is "completely false."

But as matters stand, the house appropriations leaders may be facing their own Thermopolaye, unless the house backs them up strongly. And if it does, President Eisenhower and his comptroller general are likely to lose another round.

Secretary Wilson, who sides with the house appropriations members in part, has said that the defense program demands long term contracts with aviation and other companies, in order that they may continue their experimental and development programs. The White House, siding with the Hoover commission, takes the view that spending agencies, including Secretary Wilson's defense department, often obligate funds in order to keep their appropriations from lapsing. But Wilson insists that there are no real differences between the president and himself.

The Wilson argument is that the defense department is subject to orders from the White House to cut back expenditures under economy programs, and must reimburse contractors for many millions of expenditures they have made, when and if their contracts are cancelled.

The reported - soon - to - retire Secretary of defense cites the experience of his department in 1949 when President Truman required Louis Johnson, second man to be named secretary of defense, to cut back military expenditures sharply in all departments. That involved cancellation of many defense contracts, some of them less than a year before the Communist invasion of South Korea, and resulted in loss of billions of dollars to the government.

Furthermore Wilson has calculated, with the assistance of his own comptroller, Assistant Secretary W. J. McNeil, that if appropriations were made on the accrual basis, defense appropriations might have to be cut by an additional two billion dollars to keep within the limitations thus made necessary.

This, he pointed out would be in addition to the 2¼ billion reduction in his budget which President Eisenhower had ordered.

The arithmetic you will have to figure out. All we can say is that if we were Secretary of Defense Wilson, Detroit would look good as a place to retire.

HOLMES ALEXANDER

Eisenhower Credited With Bringing Peaceful Outlook

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Not many Americans, it's safe to say, would eagerly welcome Russian air - land inspection of this nation. The willingness is not going to be much increased by a reciprocal action on Russia's part, allowing our inspectors in their country. Still less, we should all hope, is it likely that the American people will be won over to make this concession because (a) some political candidates consider it their personal triumph or (b) because it is urged that inspection and disarmament are roads to peace.

Our people ought to know by now that (a) all candidates are peace - loving; that (b) if you have a peaceful relationship (as on the Canadian - American border), the disarmament will take care of itself; whereas (c) if you have a warlike relationship (as in the Middle East), the antagonists will somehow find the weapons.

Still, there is real reason to hope that we are within sight of the Promised Land called peace-in-our-time. Nearly all the U. S. military leaders and a number of foreign political leaders have, by word or (better yet) by action, told us that the likelihood of World War III has diminished since 1953 when Ike took over. This is true, for one thing, because the President and his entourage have steadier nerves and are better men in nearly every way than those whom they replaced. We already have had a war under Mr. Truman. If Adlai Stevenson had won in '56 we would presumably be fighting in the sands of Egypt now. In brief, we have more peace today than previously for the negative reason that the Eisenhower Administration does not meddle quite as much, and does not blunder nearly as much, as its putative alternates in office.

Almost the same thing has happened in Russia since 1953. The Stalin regime was jumpy and trigger - happy. The Khrushchev Administration is much more confident, reposed and representative of the Russian people. For that reason it is more concerned with giving the Russian people butter and plowshares for their internal economy. Marshal Zhukov, from the accounts of Russologists in Washington, came close to being a Slavic isolationist. He saw enough war in the 1940's to believe in Fortress USSR.

There seems to be a willingness in the Kremlin to be satisfied with atomic parity vis-a-vis the United States. Now that we are fairly even in the power of mutual destruction, Russia appears to feel safer. This means that she is behaving more sanely, although that is a relative term.

But there is another peace factor which is emerging, I think, in the American mind. It was recently illustrated, or so it appeared to me, in the news story of Nathan Leopold. This perverted thrill - killer of the 1920's had asked Governor Stratton of Illinois for a commutation of his life sentence. Leopold asked the Governor — and, through the newspapers, the American public — to believe that he was not the same person who helped to kill little Bobby Franks in what was supposed to be a crime without passion, without reason and without clues.

To learn what kind of a person Leopold was when he did the murder, many thousands of thinking, opinion - making people have been reading "Compulsion," the penetrating novel by Meyer Levin, which is a study of this crime. To me, the most horrifying yet enthralling business in "Compulsion" is the author's proposition that Judd (Nathan Leopold) was in the process of a personality change when he was inwardly "compelled" to kill his victim. A few days afterwards, Judd might have passed through the phase of being a pervert and a killer. He might have become normal. There is this passage:

"Could he then, only be like everybody else? Could it be possible that he may come really to be in love with a girl, perhaps this girl? Even marrying, raising a family? Would the whole idea of what that is all about, what ordinary life is all about, come to him, too?"

Well, if it can happen to a person — why not to a nation? There is much historical evidence that Russia, after throwing off the Czar, teetered on the edge of being a "normal" or "ordinary" nation. Had the moderates, instead of the extremists, assumed control of the Russian destinies, who knows?

CONGRESSIONAL QUARTERLY

Lobbies Report Spending $1.8 Million On Congress

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (CQ)— Lobbies have reported spending $1.8 million in the first half of 1957 in attempting to get their way in Congress.

That averages to about $3,300 for every member of Congress The spending pace indicates that lobby spending for the whole year will approximate the $3.8 million lobbies reported spending in 1956.

A 1946 law requires lobbies to tell Congress at the end of each calendar quarter how much they spent to influence Congress. The deadline for filing spending reports for the second quarter of 1975 was July 20.

Congressional Quarterly's survey of the spending reports revealed that 215 organizations filed. Most of them were business organizations interested in legislation on everything from limes to limestone.

The business groups accounted for $867,925 of the total $1.8 million reported spent on lobbying for the period ending June 30. Biggest spender within the business category was the U. S. Savings and Loan League with $66,328. Its reported expenditure was also the second highest for all categories.

4,300 Members

The League works toward the legislative goals of 4,300 savings and loan associations. This year the League unsuccessfully opposed further government housing aids within the Federal Housing Administration and urban renewal programs. It unsuccessfully pressed for raising the interest rate on GI housing loans from 4½ per cent to 5 per cent. The League also has worked on legislation to recodify the laws applying to financial institutions. It was successful in its campaign to prevent any extension of the Federal direct home loan program.

Stephen G. Slipher, chief lobbyist in the League's Washington office, said his organization ranked high in spending because it included more items under lobbying expenses than other groups. "If our organization with a Washington staff of three men and six girls can rank so high as a spender," Slipher said, "there is a big difference in reporting methods or else not much lobbying is getting done."

Another organization within the business category, the American Hotel Assn., appeared among the top spenders for the first time and gave a similar explanation for its expenditure of $34,243. Its total made it fourth highest among business groups and ninth among all groups. The association, representing 6,000 hotels, has been working on parts of housing, billboard and labor bills that would apply to hotels.

Next to business groups in total spending were such employee organizations as the AFL-CIO and National Federation of Post Office Clerks. A total of 28 employee organizations accounted for $368,835 of the $1.8 million lobby spending reported. The AFL - CIO was high in the employee category with $63,115 and the Post Office Clerks union was next with $46,732. The postal clerks union helped win House passage of postal workers pay raises.

Third highest spending category was the one embracing such citizen groups as the General Federation of Women's Clubs and National Congress of Parents and Teachers. Of the 28 organizations within this category, the campaign for the 48 States was high with a reported expenditure of $100,411.

Curb Spending

The Campaign, organized by Rep. Ralph W. Gwinn (R N. Y.), seeks to curb Congress' taxing and spending powers through constitutional amendments. It is trying to build up support for its drive by working through state legislatures. Gwinn's group reported spending more money than any organization in any category.

Organizations classified as farm, professional and military and veterans made up the rest of the total $1.8 million lobby spending for the first half of 1957. The total reported expenditures of organizations in each of those categories: farm, $142,909; professional, $113,115; veterans, $57,630.

The American Farm Bureau Federation led the farm groups with $51,292. It has pushed for reductions in the Federal budget and opposed Federal development of Hells Canyon and the school aid bill. It endorsed the action Congress took this year in extending the program of selling farm surpluses abroad.

The National Education Assn., representing 659,000 teachers and school administrators, led the professional groups with a reported expenditure of $31,303. Its biggest goal was Federal aid for school construction, a measure recently defeated in the House.

The American Legion, with a reported expenditure of $28,935, led the veterans organizations in lobby spending. The Legion is the largest veterans' group with a membership of 2.8 million.

Only 16 of the 215 organizations filing spending reports said they spent $25,000 or more in the first half of 1957. Newcomers in the $25,000 and over bracket, in addition to the Hotel Assn., were the Council of Mechanical Specialty Contracting Industries, $33,957, and the American Medical Assn., $25,409.

The Council, representing heating, plumbing, electrical and ventilating contractors, has been working on legislation to simplify government contracts The AMA, with a membership of about 150,000 doctors, said it increased its staff this year and also did more traveling than usual to explain legislative issues to doctors.

Public Hearing On Natural Gas Is Scheduled

BATON ROUGE, Aug. 9 (AP)—The Louisiana Conservation Department today announced a public hearing here Sept. 12 to determine market demand for natural gas in the last quarter of 1957.

The hearing originally was set for New Orleans, but was transferred so as to preceed the following hearings on a number of oil fields:

Erath — revision of units for school board sand.

Live Oak — creation of two new units for the Godchaux sand.

North Lockport — revision of units for lower Hackberry sand.

Rayne — units for Klumpp "D" reservoir.

Shuteston — change of producing well for upper Nodosaria No. 1 sand.

Weeks Island — establishing of productivity of Patout estate tract.

The department also added to a series of hearings already scheduled for Aug. 20 in Shreveport an eighth hearing for an exceptional location of a well in the Simpson Lake field.

Grassroots Opinion

Catskill, N. Y., Enterprise: "Statistics are working in favor of older employees in industry and the premise that they are less productive is being continually disproved. The Industrial Bulletin, published by the New York State Dept. of Labor, opines that 'output man - hours show little significant variation among age groups.' The magazine gives figures to show that older workers have a better attendance record than younger employees and that older workers have fewer accidents on the job. Hiring older workers is good sound business practice. Their experience gained through the years is indispensable."

The Country Parson

"People should try to look pleasant since they are not, like a bulldog, equipped with a tail to wag."

Daily Devotions

And Elisha said, I pray thee, let a double portion of thy spirit be upon me.—II Kings 2:9.

While Elisha was asking of Elijah, his petition manifests a spirit we need in prayer. We need to ask with the Disciples, "Lord, teach us to pray!" The spirit of prayer is the important thing. We should avoid selfishness displayed by the father who pleaded for "me and my wife, son John and his wife — us four and no more." So, let us most often come to God in thanksgiving and on behalf of others.

Heavenly Father, make us aware of the good things available from Thy great storehouse for ourselves and for others. In Christ's name we ask. Amen.

Not Just A Day

THERE is no day that truthfully . . . Is just another day . . . Unless we do not really care . . . And waste our time away . . . However bright or dark the dawn . . . Or life may seem to be . . . Each new awakening is filled . . . With opportunity . . . The starting of each morning is . . . Another invitation . . . To gain success and happiness . . . And help to build our nation . . . There is no way of knowing what . . . Another day will bring . . . Unless we struggle at our best . . . In doing everything . . . But just as long as we stay strong . . . In all we do and say . . . There never will be such a thing . . . As just another day.

Civil Rights Bill Backed In House

with possibly only one change — to limit the right to jury trial in criminal contempt cases to voting rights.

The jury trial amendment has been the chief target of a barrage of criticism from Eisenhower and his top legal experts—the latest coming today from Deputy Attorney General William P. Rogers.

House Rejected Amendment

Rogers said that if allowed to stand, it would "hamper not only enforcement of the civil rights bill itself but also...make it more difficult to enforce federal law and policy in other vital areas involving the public interest."

The House rejected the jury trial amendment in passing its own administration-backed bill in June. It now must decide whether to accept the Senate version, accept it with reservations or send it to conference as proposed by the Republicans.

Under normal procedure, the House Rules Committee, which controls the flow of legislation to the floor, would recommend which course the House should take.

Smith Taking No Action

But Chairman Howard E. Smith (D-Va.), who staunchly opposes any civil rights legislation, said he had no plan to offer the resolution sought by Rayburn. He said he would decide his next step after such a proposal was offered by someone else.

But Rayburn said northern Democrats on the rules group could bring the Senate bill to the House floor for final congressional approval if the GOP members would cooperate.

"We have reached this point," the speaker said. "The people who are for a right-to-vote bill have an opportunity to get it now."

Area Highway Engineer Wayne Huckaby, introduced by G. Frank Maxwell, Thursday night told Civitans some details of proposed highway construction by state and nation hereabouts.

He said that the government is planning to care for highway transportation twenty years from now.

He visioned that by 1977 there will be many routes with six lanes three for each direction and separated by a cement dividing line. In the future he declared the government will not permit of draw bridges across rivers or grade crossings of highways and railroad tracks for safety's sake.

Federal highways when they reach cities will have two means of construction by bisecting the town or making a wide detour far past city limits. In connection with Monroe, he said that the bisecting of the city was the logical course to pursue.

His talk was well received and his hearers were pleased at the explanations given.

Dulles Warns U.S. Won't Quit A-Weapons Tests

scribed here as a real mystery. It is more baffling than some that Moscow has produced in the past years becaus the indentities of the top authorities are of course well-known. Dulles has asked intelligence agencies to study the puzzle and come up with a solution.

Dulles gave his emphatic rejoinder on atomic test policy to Soviet Ambassador Valerian Zorin in London last week. They talked privately at a luncheon. Zorin is Russia's top disarmament negotiator.

Two Points Raised

In the course of a private conversation he raised two principal topics with Dulles, according to information which subsequently became available in Washington. One of these was the standard issue of German disarmament.

Dulles gave the established American reply on this question—that the United States is not concerned because the best protection for the world against a resurgence of German militarism is the integration of Germany's forces with those of other countries as in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Zorin then bluntly asked whether the United States made a firm link between suspension of atomic tests and a cutoff in the manufacture of atomic weapons.

La. Spending Will Reach An All-Time High

spending, with education getting 212.9 million, welfare 151.8 and highways 125.9.

Commenting on the 8.3 per cent increase in welfare spending, PAR said:

"Increasing grants without a realistic tightening up of liberal eligibility requirements in the old age assistance program accounts for the continued mounting costs in the state welfare program, despite the highest level of prosperity in the state's history and an expanding social security program."

Depression Measure

In seeking a sturdy of state spending, PAR explained, "some of the present programs were designed as depression measures. These programs have not only been continued, but have increased far beyond the state's increase in population and despite its economic growth."

Spending from state revenues from government operations will be up 105.1 million this fiscal year over two years ago, PAR said.

Other Spending

And PAR listed the following increases in spending in the two-year period:

Teacher salaries, up 73 per cent with increased funds of 24.4 million.

Teacher and school employes retirement, up 40.6 per cent and 4.8 million.

School lunch program, up 45.4 per cent and 4.6 million.

Trade schools, up 42.2 per cent and 1.2 million.

State colleges, up 36 per cent and 4.9 million.

Old age assistance, up 34.4 per cent and 10.2 million.

General welfare assistance, up 41 per cent and 1.6 million.

Department of Public Safety, up 49 per cent and 1.3 million.

Department of Public Works, up 35.1 per cent and 1.1 million.

State Board of Health, up 35.5 per cent and one million.

In reference to state revenues, PAR reported:

1. Total state income, including 136.9 million dollars in federal funds, is expected to reach 616.9 million. This would be an increase of 32 million over last fiscal year and 92.4 million over the fiscal year ended June 30, 1956.

2. Income from state sources is expected to rise 14.7 million to a total of 480 million. The projected level is 45 million higher than for fiscal 1956.

3. An expected drop of 13 million dollars this fiscal year in revenue from rentals and bonuses on state mineral leases is a primary factor in holding to 14.7 million the increased income from state sources.

60 Youngsters At Ruston Home Visiting Here

Sixty youngsters from the Methodist Children's Home at Ruston will enjoy a special outing at Forsythe park today, with the Exchange Club of Monroe as hosts.

The "Sunshine Special", an annual event sponsored by the club, will take place from 10 a.m., when the boys and girls arrive, until 3 p.m., when they start back to Ruston, according to club president Francis Baylor.

Swimming at the Monroe city pool will occupy most of the morning, and a dinner has been planned at the Park's barbeque pits from 12 noon to 1 p.m.

Contests and games will be held after dinner, and Bill Goldsmith, in charge of the games and arrangements, has predicted that each youngster will have some souvenir of the day's outing to carry back to Ruston.

MAN ARRESTED

A bait-stand operator was taken into custody by the Ouachita Parish Sheriff's Department yesterday afternoon, on a charge of selling beer after hours.

J. M. Pardue, who operates an establishment at 604 Jonesboro Road, posted $500 and was released, according to Sheriff Bailey Grant.

Bertha Takes Route Via Cameron Area

uated from the west end of the island, where high waters and flooding occurred during hurricane Audrey. They also cleared swimmers from Galveston's beaches, where one man drowned in the hurricane of six weeks ago.

Some Sabine and Sabine Pass residents left their homes as a matter of caution. The two coastal towns are at the southeast tip of Texas.

Tides of five to six feet, more than four feet above normal, were predicted for Galveston and Sabine Pass. Lesser tides of three to five feet were forecast for the central Louisiana coastline.

Most residents of Cameron, La., all but eradicated by merciless Audrey, fled to Lake Charles, 60 miles to the north.

But, Bertha's 70-mile-an-hour winds still pushed high tides across the Gulf, poising still dangerous threats to an area where Audrey killed more than 500 and caused damage into the millions June 27.

Anxiety reigned along a 125-mile front from Vermilion Bay, La., to Galveston, Tex.

Red Cross and Civil Defense, still hard-pressed from the effects of Audrey, were in full swing in setting up refuge centers and mounting around - the - clock watches on the storm's progress.

Tides At Daylight

The high tides started at daybreak. Coast Guard units received distress calls from boats and stranded motorists. Units from Galveston pulled several cars to higher ground early today. The patrol boat Nike answered the call of the tug Whiteman, which reported it had a disabled rudder and was battling heavy seas.

Texas Civil Defense authorities planned possible evacuation of the low areas at Sabine and Sabine Pass. Warnings went out to units in five counties to be ready for evacuation movements.

Crews Head Home

Oil drilling crews off the coasts of both states were the first to head for the safety of the mainland.

Continental Oil Co. brought out all of its crews, totaling nearly 250 men; 240 were removed from Kerr-McGee's eight offshore rigs in the threatened area. Another 150 were brought in from rigs operated by Gulf Oil Co.

Heavy rains lashed Lake Charles and Cameron during the afternoon, heralding the approach of Bertha.

Throughout Lake Charles, still showing signs of its battering by hurricane Audrey, residents taped windows, while on the highway leading from destroyed Cameron came heavy construction equipment seeking shelter until the storm is over.

Alert Given

Maj. Gen. Raymond Hufft, Louisiana adjutant general, alerted a battalion of 500 National Guardsmen doing summer training at Ft. Polk, north of Lake Charles. The battalion, he reported, is packed and ready to move into areas damaged by Bertha.

The battalion includes a hospital unit and 12 amphibious ducks. The ducks, used after Audrey to rescue survivors, will head into Lake Charles and then into whatever area is hardest hit.

"We have enough stuff left over from Audrey to help out here," said Hufft. "A good soldier always manages to keep a little extra."

Lake Charles Red Cross disaster headquarters reported a week's posponmen. of the "building bee" program begun at the American Red Cross and the Louisiana AFL-CIO Building Trades Unions to rebuild ravaged Cameron. Bertha's threat turned back 200 construction workers headed for another week-end of such work.

Five Northeast Graduates Sworn Into U.S. Army

Five Northeast State graduates Friday were commissioned second lieutenants in the U.S. Army Reserve. They were sworn into service by Lt. Col. Howard P. Landry, professor of military science and tactics at Northeast, in ceremoniess on the campus.

The following graduates receiving second lieutenant bars were: Billy R. Roark, Fairbanks; James D. Price, Swartz; Sammy McGough, West Monroe; Jack White, Hope, Ark.; and William B. Wilson, Jr., Monroe.

Lt. Roark, who will serve in the artillery, will attend the Artillery School. Lt. Price, infantry, will report for training at the Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga.

Lt. McGough, a distinguished military graduate, will attend the Medical Service Corps School at San Antonio, Texas. Also planning for medical duty is Lt. Wilson, who will train at Medical Service Corps School. Lt. White will receive additional training at the Infantry School.

Another distinguished military graduate of Northeast, Richard A. Campbell, West Monroe, was commissioned a second lieutenant at Fort Hood, Texas, on August 1, and is scheduled to attend the Signal School, Fort Monmouth, N. J. for further training.

Completion of the Army ROTC commissioning for the school year at Northeast State brings a total of 26 second lieutenants now serving or soon to serve on active duty, Col. Landry said.

Train Kills Two Children, Mother Dies

CLEVELAND, Aug. 9 (AP) — A baby carriage wheel got stuck in a railroad track today and a speeding mail train killed two small children. Their mother died a few hours later in the hospital.

Mrs. Leonard Ball of Huron had taken her five children for a walk. She was wheeling 8-week-old Ruth Arlene in the carriage and leading 3-year-old Mary Ann by the hand.

Fireman S. J. De Falco of the Chicago-to-Cleveland New York Central train said he saw the mother struggling with the carriage as the train approached at 80 miles an hour.

He said the three-year-old was standing away from the track when he first saw them, but in the confusion just before the collision, she ran to her mother and was hit too. The other three children ran to safety.

Mrs. Ball was taken to Good San aritan Hospital at nearby Sandusky and died tonight.

MINOR BLAZE

Fire caused minor damage at the residence of P. A. Fatheree at 405 Smith street late Thursday after Fatheree fell asleep while smoking in bed.

He told firemen he had worked 12 or 14 hours and was fatigued. The floor of the house was damaged, and a mattress and couch were partially destroyed, firemen said.

Fatheree was alone in the house at the time of the blaze.

But the witness said he had seen Hoffa and Dio together at labor conventions.

Questioners, try as they might, could get him to go no further than agree with them that Hoffa and Dio were more than speaking acquaintances.

Chairman McClellan (D - Ark) and other members of the committee are digging for evidence, in advance of Hoffa's appearance as a witness, to buttress their contention that there is a corrupt alliance between Hoffa and Dio.

II veteran in his early 30s and he may already have taken the first steps. His name was not disclosed.

Last Sun Wednesday

The veteran has not been seen in the Americans' hotel at the Moscow Agricultural Exposit since Wednesday. Friends said he is ill with influenza in an infirmary and no one could see him.

Two other Americans said they are considering staying on in Moscow for study after the festival ends.

The invitation to Red China was the subject of an all-night debate among all the American delegates. Jake Rosen of New York City, a delegation leader, said the invitation covered about 50 individuals. He was uncertain how many finally would accept.

Frequent questions were asked about the possibility of State Department action against any who, by entering Red China, violated the provisions on which their passports were issued. The passports were marked not valid for travel there.

3½ GAMES AHEAD

Braves Rout Cardinals, 13-2 To Increase Lead

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 9 (UP)—The Milwaukee Braves pounded out 10 extra-base hits tonight to rout the St. Louis Cardinals and take the opener of an important three-game series, 13-2, increasing their National League lead over the Redbirds to three and a half games.

Four home runs — by Hank Aaron, Bob Hazle, Eddie Mathews and Wes Covington — paced the 18-hit attack against four St. Louis pitchers with Lindy McDaniel absorbing the defeat, his seventh against nine victories.

Bob Buhl, posting his sixth straight victory to increase his season's record to 15-4, gave the Braves their fifth straight victory and handed the Cards their fourth defeat in succession.

Del Rice was the only Milwaukee starter who failed to hit safely with Red Shoendienst and Hazle getting four apiece.

CUBS ON THE MOVE

CINCINNATI, Aug. 9 (UP)—Manager Bob Shuffing, whose Chicago Cubs are in seventh place despite a six-game winning streak, was confident today his team was going "to give everyone a lot of trouble from now on." He indicated the trouble would start tonight in the Cubs double header here with the Redlegs who have bested Chicago frequently this season.

Unbeaten Bob Riesener Gets His 18th Win

ALEXANDRIA, La., Aug. 9 (AP)—Undefeated Bob Riesener shattered an all-time Evangeline League record tonight by winning his 18th straight game for Alexandria with an 11-hit, 3-0 shutout over Thibodaux.

The 20-year-old right hander from Linden, N. J., property of the New York Yankees, wiped out the mark of 17 straight wins set by Roy Sanner of Houma in 1948 and tied the following year by Tom Spears of Lafayette.

Riesener was never in serious trouble, although the Senators had runners on bases in all but the fifth inning. Only two Thibodaux runners got as far as third base.

Alexandria wrapped up the victory with single runs in the fourth, fifth and seventh innings. Billy Johnson doubled home Glen Merklen with the first score. Bob Mayer drove in Bill Carr with the second and Dave Davis with the final tally.

Riesener, who is in his second year of pro ball, won six and lost six for St. Petersburg in the Florida State League last year.

SNIDER STARS

Bums Break Loss Streak With 4-2 Win Over Bucs

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 9 (UP)—A limping Duke Snider, back in the lineup for the first time in a week because of a twisted left leg, displayed deception and power tonight to shake the Brooklyn Dodgers out of a three-game losing streak with a 4-2 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The clever Dodger centerfielder pulled the play of the night in the fourth inning that put the Dodgers ahead to stay. He was on second base with Peewee Reese on third when Carl Furillo singled off loser Bob Friend.

Reese scored easily and Snider followed him plateward, but slowed down momentarily when third baseman Gene Freese's relay throw appeared to have him beaten.

But Snider's perfect "fake" distracted catcher Hank Foiles, who dropped the ball, and the Duke scored.

Snider then opened a two-run eighth inning by blasting his 27th homer of the year into the right field stands. A walk, a sacrifice and Gino Cimoli's third single of the night accounted for the final Dodger run.

GIANTS WIN, 22-12

Conerly Passes Pro Grid Champions Past All-Stars

By TED SMITS

CHICAGO, Aug. 9 (AP) — Chuck Conerly passed the New York Giants to a 22-12 victory over the College All-Stars tonight before a damp crowd of nearly 75,000 in Soldier Field.

John Brodie of Stanford almost matched Conerly's passing skill and Billy Ray Barnes of Wake Forest wiggled his way through the Giant offense to keep the game in suspense almost to the end.

Barnes scored the All-Star touchdown and Paige Cothren of Mississippi kicked two field goals and narrowly missed a third.

Conerly passed for both of the Giant touchdowns, but Ben Agajanian added the spectacular touch with his two field goals for the New York team. He kicked one from 33 yards away in the first period and another from 45 in the fourth.

Rain fell off and on throughout the game.

The Giants triumph in the 24th annual game made it 15 victories for professional teams against seven for the Collegians with two ties. Proceeds of the game, the first of the 1957 season, go to the Chicago Tribune Charities.

The Giants, the National League champions of 1956, were 10-point favorites. In the end it was their superior team play that tipped the balance despite the performances of Brodie, Barnes, Paul Hornung of Notre Dame, Jim Brown of Syracuse and Jon Arnett of Southern California.

John Matske of Michigan State played a strong game for the All-Stars at center.

SENATORS, 8-0

Nats Shut Out Red Hose On Six-Hitter By Ramos

BOSTON, Aug. 9 (UP)—Lou Berberet's run-producing single in the seventh inning broke up a scoreless tie and Art Schult drove in four more runs later as the Washington Senators blanked Boston 8-0 tonight behind the six-hit pitching of Red Sox "Killer" Pedro Ramos.

It was just the first shutout among his nine victories for the Cuban right hander and the second of his career. It marked the third win this season over Boston and the 11th in 14 lifetime decisions. His previous whitewash job was July 30, 1955 against Chicago.

A's Drop Cleveland Into 5th

CLEVELAND, Aug. 9 (UP)—Billy Martin drove in the winning run in the 13th inning tonight as the Kansas City Athletics defeated Cleveland, 3-2, and dropped the Indians to fifth place.

Bob Cerv walked against Al McLish, third Cleveland pitcher, with one out in the 13th and singles by Lou Skizas and Martin produced the winning run.

Ralph Terry started for the Athletics against Early Wynn and led 2-1 with two out in the ninth when Roger Maris hit his 12th home run to tie the score. Virgil Trucks went to the box in the 12th and was the winner.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (UP)—Entries for the 1957 U.S. Amateur Golf championship closed Thursday with 1,590 men entered, second largest list in history, secretary Joe Dey of the U.S. Golf Association said today.

Harvie Ward, champion for the past two years, cannot defend his title this year, since he has been ruled ineligible by the USGA as punishment for an infraction of the amateur rules.

MISS CREED STILL AHEAD

Snead Shoots 69 To Hold Top Spot In Tam O'Shanter

By IRA LURVEY
United Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Aug. 9 (UP)—Slammin Sammy Snead tilted his straw hat jauntily today and zipped through the second round of Tam O'Shanters "World" open with a three-under par 69 for a 36 hole card of 134, ten strokes under par and two ahead of anyone else.

Snead, who's been at the play-for-pay game since 1934, eased aside any would-be challengers to his bid for first place "World" money of $50,000.

The only one to come within shouting distance of Snead was Canadian Al Balding, who matched Sneads 69 today but shot a 67 to Sneads 65 in Thursday's opening round. Balding thus carded a 36-hole score of 136. There still, however, were 36 holes left to the four day, gold-lined tourney.

In third place, four strokes behind Snead and two behind Balding, were Shelley Mayfield of Long Island, New York, and Mike Souchak of New York.

Miss Suggs Leads

In the women's professional division, veteran Louise Suggs edged aside most of her opposition and slipped into first place with a 36 hole card of 148.

Clifford Ann Creed, 18, of Opelousas, La., held tight to her commanding lead among the women amateurs, shooting a 159 for the tournaments mid point.

Ward Wettlaufer moved into the lead among the men amateurs, chalking up an even-par 144. Wettlaufer won the "Worlds" amateur title last year.

68 Best Today

Today's best rounds were a pair of 68's, turned in by Ed Oliver of Canton, Mass., and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of St. Louis. The 68's were a far cry from Sneads blistering 65 in Thursday's opener. The "World" record is a 63, set by Lloyd Mangrum in 1948.

Miss Suggs, who with Patty Berg and the late Babe Zaharias has taken turns dominating the women's pro field since 1948, teed off late today, but pulled in with a three - under - ladies - par 73 to grab a two stroke lead.

Her challengers were Fay Crocker and Joyce Ziske, who shot 150. Miss Crocker, from Uruguay, carded a 74 and 76. Miss Ziske, 23, who just turned pro two years ago, reversed the order and shot a 76 in Thursday's opening round.

Miss Smith Crumbles

Marilynn Smith, 28, Wichita, Kan., who led the women pros after Thursday's first round, crumbled with a six over-ladies-par 82 and a 36-hole card of 153.

Miss Creed, 18, bettered her first round lead score of 81 and shot a 78 today, giving her a substantial six-stroke edge on her closest rivals, Lois Drafke of La Grange, Ill., and Sandra Clifford of Mexico City.

Miss Creed won last week's preliminary Tam "All American" and Miss Drafke was runner-up.

At stake in the "World" is a $50,000 prize for the top men's pro. Last year's winner, Ted Kroll, added a $50,000-plus exhibition check to his basic prize money. Top women's prize in the "World" is $6,000.

DOBY HERO

Pale Hose Defeat Tigers, 5-4, In 11

CHICAGO, Aug. 9 (UP)—Larry Doby singled in Nellie Fox from second base in the 11th inning today to give the Chicago White Sox an uphill, 5-4, victory over the Detroit Tigers.

Doby's blow came after Fox had singled and lefthanded relief pitcher Lou Sleater had purposely passed Minnie Minoso with two outs.

In addition to scoring the winning run, Fox twice saved the game for the Sox by driving in tieing runs in the ninth and 11th innings.

In the ninth, Detroit starter Paul Foytack hit Fred Hatfield, who was batting for Sox starter Dick Donovan. Hatfield moved into scoring position on Luis Aparicio's sacrifice and came home on Fox's single.

Walt Dropo, batting for Gerry Staley, started the last of the 11th with a single and Sammy Esposito came in to run for him. Esposito took second on a sacrifice and third on a wild pitch and trotted home with the fourth, tying run on another Fox single. Fox went to second on Earl Torgeson's ground out and dashed home from there on Doby's blow.

The win went to Gerry Staley, third Sox pitcher, for his fourth victory against no defeats.

In the 11th, Dixie Howell walked Red Wilson and was taken out after Wilson stole second. Bill Tuttle was purposely passed and former White Soxer Dave Philley score the Detroit catcher for a lined a pinch single to right to 4-3 Detroit lead.

Charge Intent To Kill During Baseball Game

NEWKIRK, Okla., Aug. 9 (UP) — Charges of intended murder were filed today against a disgruntled Negro porter in the mistaken identity shooting of the Ardmore, Okla., baseball club manager in the team dugout before 400 fans.

The shooting occurred at nearby Ponca City Thursday night in the second inning of the Sooner State League game between Ardmore and Ponca City.

The porter, James Johnson, 32, was brought to the Kay county jail here.

Johnson told County Attorney Ralph C. Haynes he was firing at Coy Smith, Ardmore player. But instead he hit J. C. Dunn, 31, Ardmore manager.

Dunn, who rates seventh in the league in hitting with a .325 average, was reported in "good condition" today. He was struck in the back and thigh.

Officers said Johnson had a fight with Smith at the Jens Marie hotel where the team was staying Wednesday night. Johnson was fired.

Thursday night, Johnson bought a ticket 10 minutes before game time and walked over to the Ardmore dugout.

"He grabbed Smith by the shoulder," Haynes said, and asked, "are you Coy Smith?" Smith said he was. Then Johnson stepped back about a foot and started shooting. Smith dodged and ran and the shots hit Dunn.

The prosecutor said Dunn was just returning to the dugout after scoring a run.

Haynes said Johnson fired five .32 caliber shots from a "tiny antique pistol." Two of the bullets struck Dunn.

There was no panic among the crowd, and police arrested Johnson as he walking out of the stands. He didn't resist.

Countless fans heard the shots over radio station WBBZ, which was broadcasting the game.

Seixas Upsets Ashley Cooper In Eastern Net

SOUTH ORANGE, N. J., Aug. 9 (UP)—Vic Seixas, the 33-year-old Philadelphian who is almost at the end of the big-time tennis trail, furnished the big upset today as all Australians were ousted in the quarter-finals for the first time in the history of the Eastern Grass Court Championships.

Seixas ousted Australia's Ashley Cooper, the top - seeded foreign entry, 6-3, 7-5.

Ham Richardson of Westfield, N. J., defeated Roy Emerson of Australia, 8-6, 6-1.

Dick Savitt of South Orange, N. J., seeded fourth among the domestic players, completed the Yank sweep against the Aussies by downing Mal Anderson, 9-7, 6-4.

In the other quarter-final, Gil Shea of Los Angeles, seeded sixth, upset Herb Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., 4-6, 12-10, 6-3. Flam was seeded behind Richardson.

In the semi - finals Saturday, Richardson will play Savitt and Shea will meet Seixas.

In the women's singles quarter-finals, Mary Ann Mitchell of San Leandro, Calif., defeated Karen Hantz of San Diego, Calif., 6-1 11-9, and Janet Hopps of Seattle, Wash., defeated Patricia Naud of San Mateo, Calif., 6-2, 4-6, 6-3.

SAYS CELLER

House Probers May Go After Boxing, Horse Racing Next

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 (UP)—The head of the congressional group which has just completed hearings for professional baseball, football, basketball and hockey said today he soon may order an investigation of boxing and horse racing.

"I think we will have to go into boxing and trotting races and thoroughbred racing," chairman Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.) of the House Judiciary Committee said.

Celler made the disclosure while discussing the hearings for the other professional sports which ended Thursday.

He said his special sports investigating subcommittee probably will begin investigating boxing and horse racing "this fall."

Celler said the subcommittee had requested the Justice Department to investigate boxing and horse racing "to save us the work" but that the House group now has decided to conduct its own investigation.

Celler said he expects the subcommitte to have legislation to set limits on anti-trust control of professional sports ready for the new session of Congress in January.

He indicated the subcommittee probably will propose one bill for team sports such as baseball and football and another for boxing and horse racing. He said drafting such bills would be a tough job because the present sports arrangements are "a real mishmush."

Patterson To Be Cautious Against Pete

NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (UP)—Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson entrained tonight for Seattle after telling his family and friends, "I'll be very cautious against (Pete) Rademacher."

He said he would take no unnecessary changes against the big amateur champion in their title fight at Sick's Stadium, Seattle, Aug. 22.

"Rademacher's a 210-pounder with a knockout punch," he explained, "and anything can happen if a fellow like that nails you just right. I'm certainly not going out there and slug with him while he's still fresh and unhurt. I'll take my time and then finish him off."

Patterson and his seven - man entourage broke camp this forenoon at Greenwood, Lake, N. Y., motored into New York and boarded the train tonight. They expect to arrive in Seattle at 10 a.m. CST Monday.

Trainer Dan Florio said 22-year old Floyd would do some exercising in the baggage car in order to keep "sharp" and to hold his weight at about 185 pounds.

Akins Batters Sugar Hart To Win On TKO

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 9 (UP)—Virgil Akins, a 10-year veteran of the pro ring, pinned Sugar Hart against the ropes in the seventh and eighth rounds of their televised 10-round fight and pummeled him into a technical knockout in 49 seconds in the eighth round.

Actually, the TKO was awarded too late to suit most ringsiders, who saw Hart almost helpless tonight for most of the seventh round. Hart, 148, managed to hold the veteran Akins, 148, even in the fourth and fifth rounds, after taking a scientific beating from the 29 - year - old veteran during the first three rounds.

Hart, 20, never won a round.

Akins, who now has a record of 43 wins, 16 losses and one defeat, won his 23rd knockout in 10 years of welterweight campaigning.

NCAA Has 29 Schools Under Investigations

CHICAGO, Aug. 9 (UP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association revealed today it is investigating 29 schools for possible rules violations.

Walter Byers, NCAA executive secretary, said official inquiries were underway at 11 of the schools.

Eighteen schools are under preliminary investigation to determine whether an official inquiry should be made, he told the Football Writers Association.

Byers refused to name any of the schools under investigation.

Rose Ousts Ayala

HAMBURG, England, Aug. 9 (UP)—Nicola Pietrangeli of Italy and Mervyn Rose of Australia reached the men's singles semi-finals today at Hamburg's International Tennis tournament. Pietrangeli defeated Robert Haillet of France, 8-6, 2-6, 6-4, 6-4. Rose ousted Luis Ayala of Chile in another quarter-final, 6-3, 7-9, 6-1, 4-6, 6-4.

WIN IN LAST FRAME

Bi-Parish Tops Monroe To Win Dixie League Tourney

The Bi - Parish All - Stars won the district Dixie League championship when Hershel Walker singled home Joe Busby in the top of the last inning to beat Monroe, 3 - 2, in a well - played game at Legion Stadium last night.

Held hitless for 4 innings by Monroe hurler Neal Gunn, Bi - Parish tied the game up in the 5th when Billy Miller got on on an error and Delyn Peters singled. Both men came home when Stuart Dyer hit a ball to the infield that was bobbled for 2 bases to bring in 2 runs.

With two out in the 7th, John Albritton reached first on an error and Busby came in to run for him. This set the stage for Walker's game wining blow.

Monroe scored in the third when Sperry Brown singled and stole second. He went to the hot corner when Neal Gunn hit a fielders choice although Bi - Parish tried to get him at third. Ralph Roberts singled both men home.

Larry McDonald, Peters and Miller was the battery for the winners. Neal Gunn pitched excellent 3 - hit ball for the losers and Robert Turner was behind the plate. Roberts was the game top hitter with 2 for 3.

Monroe Plays Baton Rouge For Legion Crown Tonight

Monroe's "Cinderella" American Legion team prepares to do battle for the state championship tonight at Baton Rouge, something that looked about as likely as blizzards in July at the start of the season.

Baton Rouge, champions of the south, furnish the opposition for the locals, north Louisiana champions, with the game set to begin at 7:45 at Golsby Field. Baton Rouge, sponsored by the Capital City Kiwanis, will probably start their top hurler, Butch Mixon on the mound while Monroe, sponsored by the McCain - Richards Motor Co., is expected to go with their spectacular southpaw, Fred Southerland.

The series comes to Monroe next Monday night at 8:00 when the two clubs tangle in the second game at Legion Stadium. Should a third game be necessary, it'll be here on Tuesday night.

Coached by C. J. Beysselance, the lads from the capital city won 16 and lost 4 in regular season and playoff play and took two straight from Lafayette in the state semi - finals after losing the first game of the series.

Baton Rouge showed some awesome batting power in the series with Lafayette, winning the second game with 13 — that's right, 13 — runs in the top of the ninth inning. The next night they scored 8 tallies in the second frame to wrap up a 12 - 7 decision. Mixon went all the way, giving up 7 hits, to win the final. The night before he had been called on 5 times to come in from first base and put down Lafayette rallies.

Monroe has shown some batting power of its own of late to go along with their pitching. Badly beaten in the firs. game against Alexandria in the semi - finals, the McCain - Richards bounced back to win at Alexandria with a 4 - run uprising in the 9th for a 5 - 1 decision and rapping out 11 hits for a 13 - 5 triump back a. Legion Stadium in the rubber clash.

Manager Ralph "Red" Sims is hoping the week layoff hasn't turned his boys' bats into straws and his pitchers' curves into pumpkins. A performance like the one last Saturday night could win for him easily — and one like the first game with Alexandria would mean disaster.

Baton Rouge's batting order will probably have shortstop Roger Foote leading off, followed by catcher Cecil Williams and Mixon. Gary Kinchen will be in center-field, Johnny Cutrer at first, Jeff Rogers at the hot corner and Phil Witherspoon at second base. The leftfielder will be either Tom Griffith or Randy Cooper and Bud Hochendel will be in right.

Dooley Haddad, rightfield, is the Monroe lead off man. Shortstop Francis Genusa will probably bat second, followed by Jim Allick, first base or pitcher, catcher Tommy Crowe, Lewis Kincaid, leftfielder or pitcher, Southerland, Fred Peters, centerfield, Ronnie McNabb, second base and Lannie Johnson, third base.

Shot at Title

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 9 (UP) —A possible shot at Hans Strenz, German light heavyweight champ, might be in the offing for the winner of Saturday night's fight between Carl (Bobo) Olson and heavyweight Pat McMurtry, of Tacoma, promoter Tommy Moyer said today.

PLAY CONSOLATION TODAY

Little Leaguers Fall To Sylacauga

TRUSSVILLE, Ala. (Special) — The Sylacauga Little Leaguers, Alabama champions, defeated Monroe's Southside All-Stars, Louisiana titleholders, 6-3, here today in the first game of the southern division Little League tournament.

The loss keeps Monroe from advancing any further in the national playoffs but they will play a consolation game against the loser of the Biloxi, Miss. - Pine Bluff, Ark. game today at 5:30.

The contest was tied going into the last inning at 3 all but Sylacauga rallied for 3 runs sparked by a 2-run punch hit homer by Pate. Abrams was the top hitter for the winners with 2 for 3, including a homer in the 2nd with one on.

Ray pitched 5-hit ball to gain credit for the win. Cabaniss was behind the plate.

Eddie Kincaid went all the way to absorb the loss for Monroe and Wyncel Bass was behind the plate. Kincaid gave up 8 hits. Jimmy Howard was the top hitter for Monroe with 2 hits in 3 trips.

Monroe Little League secretary Jack Hesketh said the Monroe team would arrive back in Monroe around 7 o'clock Sunday morning.

Mills Nearing Her 4th State Amateur Title

GREENVILLE, Miss., Aug. 9 (AP) —Mary Mills of Ocean Springs, Miss., continued her bid for a fourth straight Mississippi Women's Amateur Golf championship by outclassing Harriett Dukes Cauthen 6 and 5 in the semi-finals today.

The 17-year-old high school student shot one over par golf today. Her opponent in tomorrow's first half of the 36-hole finals will be Mrs. Peggy Swett of Vicksburg. The last 18 holes of their 36-hole match will be played Sunday.

Mrs. Swett, 22, reached the finals with a 4 and 3 victory over Kay Eckford of Starkville.

Rancher Orders Army To 'Get Off And Stay Off'

ORO GRANDE, N.M., Aug. 9 (UP)—Weather hardened rancher John Prather yesterday ordered the Army to "get off my land and stay off" after winning a small skirmish in a battle for possession of his ranch.

"What on earth does the Army think they're doing, by giving me a lease of 15 acres of my own land?" the grizzled 82-year-old rancher asked.

Federal Judge Waldo Rogers suspended his writ of two days ago ordering Prather off his homestead "by force, if necessary," and granted him a 15 acre lease on part of his ranch which the Army wants for a guided missiles firing range.

"I want my whole ranch back," he said. "I don't want 15 acres to die on. I want the Army to get off my land and stay off my land," Prather told supporters and relatives gathered at his home.

"I have a deed signed by the President of the United States for 5,760 acres of land. I want my whole ranch back, which is 2,000 acres."

Prather paid no more attention to the court order than he has to repeated efforts in the past to get him off his land. In fact, he oiled up his weapons and announced he would shoot the first man to step across his threshhold.

Deputy U.S. marshals, whose duty it was to enforce the court order, did not take up Prather's dare.

Assistant U.S. Attorney Joseph McNeany said he received instructions from the Defense Department to file an amended order because the Army felt the original move was "premature."

He said the Army now said it did not need the 15 acre tract at present.

For Prather, it meant he won the immediate battle but not the war. The government still owns the land, but will let him stay on it indefinitely.

But the aged rancher was far from satisfied.

He said today that he felt the pressure was off him, but he will not be satisfied with the 15 acres offered him. He said he would be willing to lease most of his land to the government for one dollar a year, so long as the land reverts to him or his heirs when the Army no longer needs it."

Spinster's Luncheon Bids Farewell To Kay Donna Pollard, Fiancee Of Albert Ellis, Before Rites On 10th

Mrs. James Hoss entertained this week in her Delhi home for Miss Kay Donna Pollard, finacee of Albert Ellis of Monroe. Designated as a "Spinster's Luncheon" it was the last such affair for the honoree, prior to her wedding on Aug. 10.

A color combination of pink and white was used throughout the home. The small guest table, covered in white was centered with clusters of pink and white wedding bells tied with pink satin and nestled in net. Place cards were pink maline bags of rice, satin tied. Miss Pollard's place was designated by a gift, wrapped in white and topped with a bride figurine placed amidst a fluff of satin ribbon.

The service table held an attractive arrangement of pink and off - white zinnias in a milk glass fruit bowl, atop the pink damask cloth. The same theme was again seen in flower arrangements on side tables.

The honoree, wearing a trousseau model of pink and white summer cotton, accented with ebony accessories and corsage of pink carnations, received with Mrs. Hoss.

The guest list included the honoree's mother, Mrs. Earl Pollard and her sister, Mrs. Russell Timmons.

Mrs. Richard Hill Entertains For Miss Emma June Anderson, Fiancee Of Donald Wilson Chapman

Miss Emma June Anderson continues to be entertained by bridal parties and showers. Among these social events was the shower on Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Dick Hill, in Archibald, home town of the bridegroom-to-be, Donald Wilson Chapman.

Hostesses for the party were Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Clarence Prewilt, Mrs. Ted Crawford, Mrs. Bob Chapman, Mrs. Tom McKay, Mrs. W. L. Acklin, Mrs. T. L. Gates, Mrs. Herman Grant, Mrs. Earl Hill and Miss Gloria Grant.

The reception area was decorated with lovely floral displays. Especially noted was the pink rose arrangement on the table where guests registered in the bride's book. Miss Jane Hill asked guests to sign the guest book.

Miss Anderson, wearing a summer cotton with a pink rose bud corsage, greeted the guests with her mother, Mrs. H. L. Anderson of Winnsboro, and Mrs. Dan W. Chapman of Archibald, mother of the bridegroom-to-be. They were wearing summer models with white carnation corsages.

The refreshment table was overlaid with a hand drawn white linen cloth and the floral arrangement was of white daisies flanked on either side with candelabra holding white tapers. The crystal punch service was used on the end of the table and Mrs. Ted Crawford served.

Gifts were displayed and the floral decoration noted in the display room were pink roses attractively arranged. The many gifts of china, crystal, silver, and items of a miscellaneous nature were on tables in this area.

Seventy three guests registered in the bride's book between the appointed hours for the party.

Early eyeglasses, primitive by modern standards, with cumbersome and heavily ornamented frames, were often worn as badges of authority. Some of these "authorities" had them riveted into their helmets or fastened into hats and hoods, according to studies.

Mr. And Mrs. Mark H. Brown Feted With Golden Anniversary Reception At Open House In Lake Providence

The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Mark H. Brown was the occasion for an open house celebration at the American Legion Home on Lake Providence. Hosts for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Mark H. Brown, Jr., of Tallulah and Mr. and Mrs. W. Barry Mitchell of Lake Providence.

Arrangements of gold chrysanthemums, carnations, shasta daisies, fugi mums and plants of many kinds were placed throughout the reception rooms of the Legion Home, many of them gifts from friends and relatives.

Little Miss Marcia Lynn Mitchell, Nanette Schneider and Mark Brown, III, invited the guests to register as they entered the lobby. Mr. and Mrs. Mark H. Brown, Jr., greeted the guests at the door and directed them to the lounge where Mr. and Mrs. Brown were seated in two ladder backed chairs, receiving the best wishes and congratulations of the hundreds who called between the hours of seven and ten.

Mrs. Brown was c armingly gowned in a white chiffon floor length dinner dress, fashioned with a tight bodice and very full skirt. Her short Eton jacket was edged in gold brocade interspersed with tiny seed pearls.

Mrs. Sara Schneider served the wedding cake which was a four-tiered confection, decorated with gold roses and leaves, and supported by columns between the tiers. The top was decorated with an arch made of gold leaves, centered with a wedding bell with the numerals "50" on it.

The table was overlaid with an Irish Linen cutwork cloth, and had as the central decor an arrangement of gold chrysanthemums, in a low glass bowl. Two three-branched golden candelabra held golden tapers. A massive silver punch bowl was placed at one end of the table from which fruit punch was served. Trays of mints and many kinds of sandwiches and individual cakes were placed on the table and were also passed among the guests throughout the evening.

Another refreshment table near the front door, also held a silver punch bowl. This table was also covered with a linen cutwork cloth and held a small arrangement of gold carnations. Presiding alternately at the punch bowls were Mrs. Russell Fleeman, Mrs. G. L. Levy, Mrs. R. S. Guenard, Mrs. McFarland Long, Mrs. C. A. Rose, Mrs. O. S. Brown, and Mrs. C. R. Evans.

A console table in the lounge was laden with gifts presented to Mr. and Mrs. Brown. Unique among the flower arrangements was a money tree of gold, from whose branches were suspended silver dollars, wrapped in gold foil.

Miss Lillian Bailey and Mark H. Brown were married in Edinburgh, Indiana. A picture of the original wedding scene was enlarged and displayed for the guests.

The Browns have resided in Lake Providence the past thirty years where he is engaged in the cooperage business, with interests in Lake Providence, Oak Grove, Tallulah and Ferriday. They hav two children, Mrs. W. Barry Mitchell of Lake Providence, and Mark H. Brown, Jr., of Tallulah.

Parents Should Praise A Child When He Honestly Merits It

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

In years gone by parents were apt to minimize a child's accomplishments in the belief that this would discourage the growth of vanity and conceit — two traits which are, when displayed, displeasing to the average individual.

Our present method of building up the child and making much of his small accomplishments, may temporarily have an influence upon his conceit. But this is better, on the whole, than growing up with a burdensome sense of inferiority.

Mrs. H. Y. L. writes, "When I was small my mother never gave me a compliment of any kind. No matter what I did she just accepted it and ignored it. Consequently I have always had a great sense of inferiority. I do not want my children to suffer from this. But, if I praise them, will they grow conceited and cocky? I dislike that, too. Where is the safe middle ground?"

Answer

Life i self, with its rivalries and competition can be calculated to take a good deal of the starch out of any child's conceit. The rivalry of personalities inside and out of the home; the competition in school, in sports, all of these tend to shatter the child's picture of himself as the conqueror of all.

It is the parent who has to right the balance. You do not praise when no praise is due. You do not go overboard trying to make a child feel that he is tops in everything, because you know, and he or she soon will, too, that his is not true. My granddaughter who is very good in art drew a picture which we all praised. But she cried, actually, because she said we were saying something that wasn' true. It wasn't good, she knew it wasn't.

Praise Efforts

All along the way we praise not only the results but the efforts a child makes — measuring her efforts not against the ultimate that she might do, but against what she has done in the past. This is as true of school work, or sports, or behavior as it is of the arts.

There is always progress and it is that we praise — and expect the child to keep on going forward, making better marks, improving in sports, being a better child and all because we are there to say, "That's fine. You're doing well," instead of wooden silence and an acceptance of everything as no more than should be expected.

If you would like our 10-cent booklet "Introducing the Arts to Your Child," send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Three Parties Given For Mrs. Drake Before Departure For Baton Rouge

As a compliment to Mrs. J. H. Drake, prior to her departure for Baton Rouge, Mrs. N. Klam entertained with a luncheon at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club.

An arrangement of white stock interspersed with specimine crysanthemums centered the table, atop a cloth of leaf green. Tall crystal beakers of green contrasted pleasantly with the gold place settings.

Seated with the honoree and hostess were: Mrs. J. D. Kelly, Mrs. A. P. Andrews, Mrs. B. M. Phillips, Mrs. Sylvian Masur, Mrs Thomas Keller, Mrs. Guy DuPriest, Mrs. Anders, and Mrs. Walter Koch.

Bridge Party

A bridge party was also given at the country club for Mrs. Drake, hosted by Mrs. Thomas Keller.

Seasonal flowers were used in the game room, and refreshments were served throughout the afternoon to:

Mesdames J. E. Shannon, C. E. Coe, D. A. Altick, Walter Koch, Few Easterling, John Woodburn, C. E. Covin, E. L. Boon, H. C. Polk, Meyer Greenwald and Joe Ammon.

Conversational guests were Mrs J. C. Anders, Mrs. A. S. Gunter, and Mrs. J. D. Kelly.

High score went to Mrs. Woodburn, with Mrs. C. E. Covin winning second prize. Mrs. Drake was gifted with perfume by her hostess.

Morning Coffee

Mrs. J. D. Kelly entertained with a morning coffee honoring Mrs. Drake.

The Kelly home, overlooking the bayou, formed a perfect setting for the affair, decorated with summer flowers and greenery in handsome planters.

Enjoying the hospitality and the view through the picture win were: Mesdames J. R. White, A. S. Gunter, N. Klam, C. E. Coe, J. W. Womack, Johnnie Daniels, John Harris, Robert Riddle, B. M. Phillips, Walter Koch, Sylvian Masur, Guy DuPriest, Jack Howard, Thomas Keller, D. A. Altick, C. E. Searsy, Ralph Talbot, J. C. Anders, and L. U. Fourmy.

Shows Family To Hold Reunion At Park In Natchez

September 1, will bring a reunion of the Shows family, to be held at Deneau Park in Natchez, Miss.

Many decendants from northeast Louisiana and from surrounding states plan to attend the affair. It will begin at 10 a.m., and conclude at 3 in the afternoon.

All members of the family are to bring a picnic lunch and spend the day.

Birthdays Are Celebrated At L. Providence

LAKE PROVIDENCE, — Little Miss Evelyn Claire Holt celebrated her first birthday with a party at Doefield plantation, home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Holt.

Daphne Deal and Ann Bonner, cousins of the honoree, assisted Mrs. Holt in the entertaining and serving. Guests for the occasion included Ruthie and John Babb, Kathy and Ann Harris, Douglas Bonner, Jim, Bill, Judy and Sally Patrick, Tommy Deal, Johnny and Bobby Holt, Frank Cain, Jr., the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Bonner, Mrs. J. P. Davis, Mrs. Baxter Deal, Mrs. A. B. Patrick, and Mrs. W. F. Bonner, Jr.

Refreshments of ice cream and birthday cake were served.

Transylvania Party

Miss Carolyn and Ruth Fletcher, entertained with a surprise party on the eve of their brother's 17th birthday. The honor guest, Jerry Fletcher, was serenaded as he entered the recreational room of the Transylvania School, when the assembled group sang "Happy Birthday," with Miss Patsy Washam, accompanist.

Serving as chaperones for the party were Mr. and Mrs. Louie McWilliams. Games and contests, refreshments of birthday cake, cokes and other soft drinks, and the opening of the many useful gifts occupied the young people for the majority of the evening.

Those present included Peggy Sellers, Carolyn Chappell, Clayton Bigelow, Sue Hayes, Patsy Washam, Donald Lee, Wayne Boyette, Connie Graves, Johnny Johnson, Bobby Aycock, Faye Ross, Shirley Fletcher, Jimmy Hart, Judy Fletcher, James Booth, Frances Pearson, Larry Dukes, Arnold Cook and Gary Parker.

There's a new shape to some suit jackets this fall. It is the curved - up cut, with the jacket swinging full instead of hugging the hipline, and hanging much shorter in front than back. Designer Pauline Trigere shows the curved - jacket topping a slim - cut skirt, both in grey tweed.

Caddoan Club Completes Plans For Year Book, To Stress Local Items

The Caddoan Club Year Book Committee have completed their program for the coming year, announces club president, Mrs. Clarke M. Williams. Mrs. Joe G. Cabuck is chairman of this committee and serving with her are Mrs. S. P. Williams and Mrs. Mason McEnery.

Selected for the year's study has been "Our Heritage" and will take in any of the past history of the local community.

In September the program will center around the Collect, used by all Federated Clubs, written by Mary Stewart.

Oak Ridge and surrounding area will be the topic for October with the history of the community from the beginning of Point Jefferson. Mrs. W. M. Nolan will be the guest speaker and her topic has been called "The 1800's — "Point Jefferson — the 1900's — Oak Ridge."

In November the group will take up local government, and study the history of the town government from the time it was corporated. Mayor Jack Files will speak on "Turning the Wheels of Government" and will inform the club members on laws, and how the town is run.

Very fitting for the season will be the December program. It will be on "Small Town Christmas" and the topic of study has been called "A Christian Christmas." Mrs. Joe Cabuck will tell about a Catholic Christmas and Mrs. Glen L. Greene will talk on a Protestant Christmas.

January is for the business meeting and election of officers. Mrs. McEnery will give a short talk on the Oak Ridge Community Council and its functions.

"Youth — Our Leaders of Tomorrow" is the name that has been selected for the February program and the topic of discussion will be "Our Youth Speaks" and local boys and girls will be on the program. Sterling Elizabeth Files will tell about the Methodist Youth and Their Goals, Linda Dale Files will talk on "Baptist Activity for Community Young People. Joe Grice Cabuck will tell about the "4-H Club work as a character builder."

The March program has been called "Our Schools - Past and Present." Mrs. S. L. Parks, Jr will be speaker and will tell about the history of the local school and then some of the many humorous anecdotes that have been told by the older citizens of Oak Ridge.

April will deal with Local Folklore. Mrs. M. E. Files will tell tales that bear repeating, and that have been told and retold by many of the local families.

Historical Spots, both local and national, will be the topic taken up in May, and Mrs. R. E. Barham, Jr. will tell about Historical Gardens for the national theme. For the local spot, Mrs. H. E. Stevenson will discuss the local Indian Mounds, located about one mile north of Oak Ridge.

As yet no special date has been set for the annual social but it will be in May and the date will be arranged before the books go to press.

Afternoon Tea In Tarver Home Fetes Miss Patsy Speir, Bride-Elect

Attractive young bride - elect, Miss Patsy Speir, was entertained at an afternoon tea in the Tarver home at Swartz, prior to her marriage to Marion E. Causey, Jr., of Baton Rouge.

Co-hosting the affair were Mrs. Hope V. Tarver, Mrs. E. D. Morrison and Miss Faith Johnson.

Assisting in extending the courtesies were Miss Alice Patton who presided at the guest book, Mrs. C. Roger Johnson, Mrs. C. A. Burney and Mrs. Ivy Smith who alternated at the serving table.

The spacious living room was beautifully decorated in white and gold as the color scheme. The service table, covered in gold cloth overlaid with gold net, bore a floral arrangement of white flowers flanked by gold candelabra. A white wedding ring tree, adorned with miniature rings, was placed on the console in the entrance hall - where the guests registered.

The honoree was frocked in a sleeveless aqua crystalette, swirl-skirted, and highlighted by her gift corsage of satin and wedding rings as she received with her hostesses during the hours of four and six-thirty.

Among those who called were the Mesdames J. F. Staley, Mattie Walker, J. W. Thompson, W. G. Rollinson, Earl Barron, John Scarf, George Mason, Elsie Patterson, Louise Stone, D. A. Mears, Guy Armstrong, Dorothy Patton, Frances Cole, Sue Johnson, T. G. Johnson.

Beautiful Eyes Can Make Any Plain Face Look Better, Even Fascinating

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

If you have no light in your eyes
Pull the lids down and forget this column.

Beautiful eyes can transform an otherwise plain face into one of fascination. A woman's eyes and mouth are her most expressive and dearly remembered features. Even eyes which are not outstanding because of their shape, size or color can be immensely enhanced by clever grooming and make-up of brows and lashes.

I had a friend who was so attractive in personality that I never really thought about whether she was pretty or homely. BUT, one day she suddenly looked pretty.

I said, "You look wonderful! There is something different about you. You always look wonderful but you look different and even more wonderful." She laughed and said, "I have had my eyebrows dyed and am using some mascara."

"Windows of Soul"

She didn't have unusual eyes except that they always had a sparkle in them—and that's really better than make-up—but the pickup she had given her eyes made a great difference in the way she looked. I think this was due to the fact that eyes really are "the windows of the soul." I do not mean to become syrupy, but the truth is that the expression in our eyes has more to do with the way we affect others than anything else, except maybe our laughter. Laughter is remembered much longer than tears.

Of course, if you have no expression in your eyes this is not for you—and I have not met anyone like you. If you have no light, no expression, then you might as well pull the lids down and forget this column.

BUT, if you have a glimmer you should use eye make-up. Here are a few tips.

Fault

The most usual fault in applying mascara is having the brush too wet and getting too much mascara on it. If you do either of these your lashes will look beaded and matted. Use a very little water and then cover the bristles very lightly with mascara. Brush this on from roots to tips of the lashes. Go easy! You may have to repeat the process again.

Another tip—if your lashes grow in bunches, as many women's do, separate the lashes with a fine hairpin or toothpick before applying the mascara.

You also can make your eyes look lovelier by drawing a very fine line with a very sharp eyebrow pencil at the base of the upper lashes. Some experts say that with certain type eyes you should draw a line along the lower lid also. I disagree I think this looks artificial and hard and ghoulish.

Two House-Warming Parties Given This Week In Lake Providence

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Dillard, who recently moved into their new home in the Edgewood division, were surprised with a housewarming, given by a number of their friends.

Plans for the surprise party, included inviting the Dillards out to dinner so that the guests could assemble, gifts be brought and refreshments prepared. Upon the Dillards' return home, they were most pleasantly surprised when they were greeted by the following friends: Mr. and Mrs. Denis Brown, Jr., Mrs. J. C. Bass, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Elmus H. Coleman, Miss Ida May Cobb, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Fleeman, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cilfoil, III, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Howington, Miss Fleeta Howell, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Knobles, Mr. and Mrs. Grady Lightfoot, Mr. and Mrs. Jack McCain, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. McGinn, of Lafayette, Mr. and Mrs. John Markey, Mr. and Mrs. Barry Mitchell, Dr. and Mrs. William A. Paris, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Ogden Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Rosenzweig, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Regenold, Mr. and Mrs. Max F. Stockner, Dr. and Mrs. George Wright, and Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Wyly.

Surprise the John Markeys

Twenty-two couples called, en masse, at the new home of the John Markeys on Hollywood plantation for a surprise house-warming during the past week.

Food for a buffet supper was furnished by the guests who brought many lovely and useful gifts to the honorees.

Among those present were Father Bonin, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Baur, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Brown, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Elmus H. Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. If you have a two-temperature refrigerator, you can usually keep food in the zero-degree freezing section for several months.

Spoon ice cream into an ice tray when you are planning to store it for a short while in the ice-cube compartment of your refrigerator; it will keep better that way than if it is stored in its paper container.

Virginia Booker, Wyly D. Nelson Wed In El Paso

Of interest to many friends throughout this area is the announcement of the recent marriage of Mrs. Virginia T. Booker and Wyly D. Nelson, both former residents of Lake Providence.

In a quiet ceremony witnessed by members of the family, the two exchanged vows at 5:00 p.m. Thursday, in the sanctuary of Asbury Methodist church, El Paso, Texas, with the Rev. James G. Brown, officiating.

The bride wore a lace trimmed blue linen sheath with white accessories and a white gardenia corsage. Her daughter, Mrs. Ed H. Brown, her only attendant, was gowned in blue cotton frock, with white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Howard Nelson, of Lake Charles, served his father as best man. The couple left immediately following the ceremony for Angola, La. where the bridegroom is Superintendent of the Angola sugar factory.

The L. M. Lesters Are Hosts For A Family Reunion

The Lester home at Oak Grove was the setting for a family reunion this week when, for the first time in seventeen years, the clan met to reminisce.

Out - of - town members attending were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lester and daughter Annette, of San Diego, California. Mr. and Mrs. Horace Lester and daughter Jan of Houma. Worth Lester of Atlanta, Georgia; Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Cooper and daughter, Connie, of Shreveport: Mrs. Lennie Mae Webb and Mrs. Nina McVay, both of Shreveport.

A bountiful buffet was served, and the traditional program, marking a reunion, was followed during the afternoon.

If your family is tired of plain tossed green salads try varying them by adding crisply cooked bacon snippets, croutons that have been drenched with hot garlic butter or small thin fan - shaped slices of red unpeeled apple. Or add all three — bacon, croutons and apple!

Some cooks like to add a little caraway seed to the water when they are cooking shrimp.

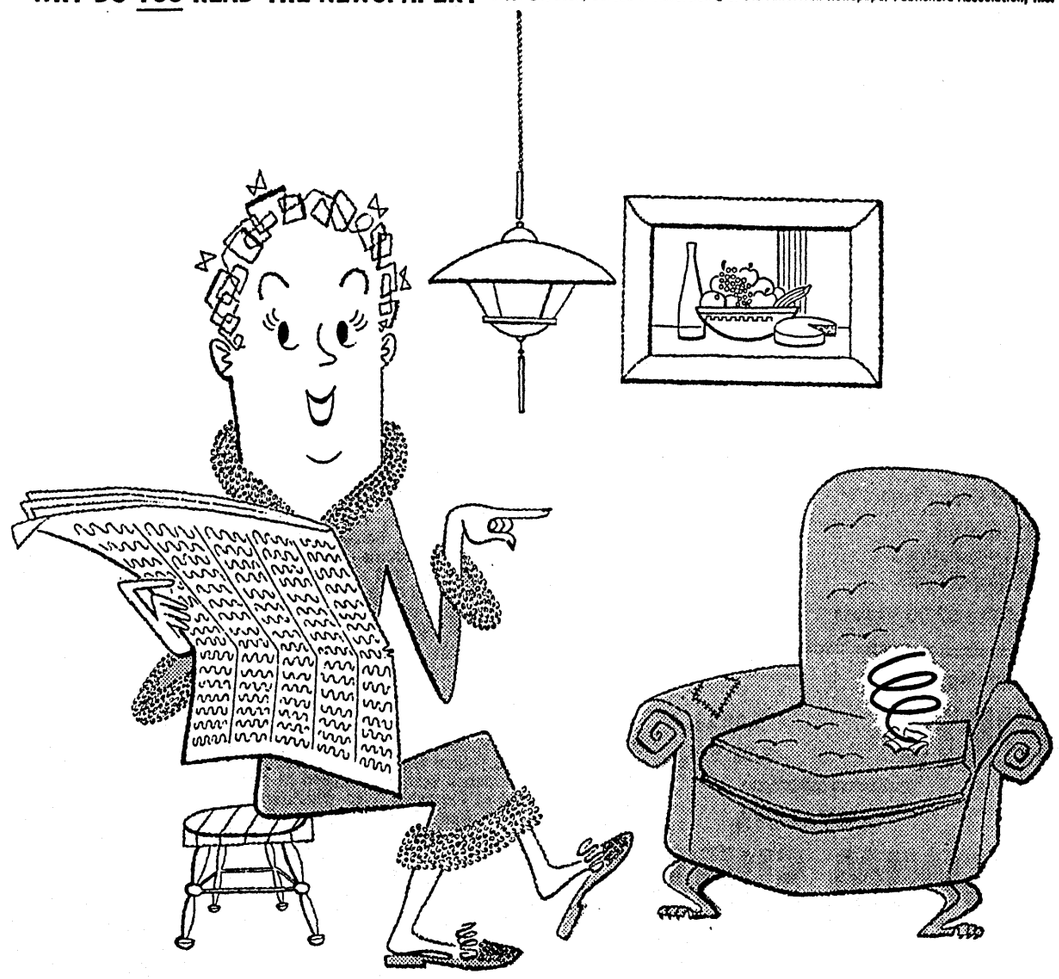
WHY DO YOU READ THE NEWSPAPER? Copyright 1957, Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, Inc.



*"I sit down with the paper every day to read it and look for ads on things I need..."

Morning, noon or night, any day of the week, in the house or out, the newspaper remains to be read — and shopped — at the reader's convenience.

This is one of the great pluses for an advertiser — as so many advertisers well know. An ad is read by newspaper readers when the readers feel like it. There is no intrusion upon the readers' time; thus no resentment by customers.

The convenience appeal of the daily newspaper is one reason why people pay over $3,000,000 a day for the privilege of reading and shopping from more than 57,000,000 newspapers daily.

Whatever you sell, wherever you sell it — nationally, regionally or locally — you'll get more help selling it through the daily newspaper . . . where people find time to listen to your story.

VICTORY SMILES—John Prather, 82, (seated) and his brother, Owen, 75, smile triumphantly as they are told a government order evicting Prather from his southern New Mexico ranch had been amended. (AP Wirephoto)

Marshals Move Cattle, Unable To Budge Man

ORO GRANDE, N. M., Aug. 9 (UP) — U. S. deputy marshals turned cowboys today and herded John Prather's cattle off his ranch, but they haven't been able to budge the grizzled old homesteader himself.

Prather stood his guns and said "the danged old Army better get off my land and stay off."

But the 82-year-old rancher remained docile as government range riders drove his cattle to nearby land he owns so they won't be hit by guided missiles.

Apparently Prather doesn't care if he is hit.

Defies Army

He has repeatedly defied the Army and the federal courts which want to oust him from his 27,000 acre ranch that has been his home for more than 50 years.

Prather continued to gain support from his neighbors, who also are indignant at what they consider an "Army land grab" of their ranches.

However, all but Prather sold out to the Army. Prather said he intended to die on his land and is willing to take on the entire might of the U. S. Military if he has to. He has two guns [illegible] "to shoot the first man that steps across my threshhold."

[illegible] Reconciled

But the crusty old rancher was apparently reconciled to having his cattle moved. U. S. Marshal George Beach said he anticipated "no resistance" from Prather as a roundup of his cattle started.

Beach said it would take a couple of days to remove the animals.

On the legal side of the battle, Prather has won a minor victory but isn't claiming it. A federal court judge in Albuquerque issued a writ permitting him to stay in house and keep 15 acres. Prather's only reply was "get off my land."

Texan To Face $600,000 Charges For Embezzling

DALLAS, Aug. 9 (UP)—District Attorney Henry Wade flew to Mexico City today to return elusive BenJack Cage to Dallas to face charges of embezzling $600,000 from the collapsed ICT Insurance Co.

Cage's attorney, M. R. Irion, who accompanied Wade to Mexico City, said Cage was returning to Texas against his advice.

However, Wade was not so sure that Cage would come back with him.

No Commitment

"We hope he returns, but there is no commitment outside the meeting with me" he said just before he boarded a plane. "He may return, and he may not."

But Irion, who said he had been Cage's personal attorney for 19 years, left little doubt that the former head of the multi-million dollar ICT Insurance Co. had made up his mind to come back and attempt to straighten out his affairs here.

"The first thing Cage plans to do when he returns is file bankruptcy in a federal court," Irion said. "After this, he plans to give due notes to anyone that he has any obligations to, then he will return to South America and make necessary money to meet these obligations."

Clear Up Issues

Irion said Cage told him the reason he wants to come back to Texas was the "holier-than-thou attitude of friends and people he has helped."

"He is coming back to clear up these issues," Irion said.

"Some people think he has a lot of money secreted away, but that is just not true," the lawyer said. "He actually is so broke that he has had to borrow money off his insurance policies to pay his living expenses."

Cage last was reported in Havana, Cuba, and Wade said he will fly to Mexico City "in a day or two to meet us."

Rags Catch Fire

Rags in the kitchen of a cafe at 903 Thomas street caught on fire at 11:22 yesterday morning, but no damage resulted to the establishment.

Engine companies 102 and 104 were sent to the fire, and reported that no damage resulted, other than smoke damage to the stove. Firemen returned to their stations at 11:35 a.m.

At the peak of the gold rush in 1900, Nome, Alaska, had a population of 20,000. Today its population is 2,000.

Jury Indicts Six Officials For Fraud

HOUSTON, Aug. 9 (UP)— Six former officials connected with the collapsed U. S. Trust and Guaranty Co. today were indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of fraud and conspiracy.

Among those indicted was A.B. Shoemake, former president of U. S. Trust and U. S. Automotive Service at Waco, who has never fully recovered from shooting himself in the head nearly two years ago.

The federal grand jury, climaxing a six-month probe of activities of U. S. Trust and Guaranty returned a 14-page, 10-count indictment charging the six with mail fraud, conspiracy and violation of the Security Exchange Commission laws.

Indictments also were returned against Willis V. Lewis, an Arkansas attorney who set up an insurance firm at Little Rock with half a million dollars of U.S. Trust funds; J. Hugh Hope, one of Shoemake's righthand men and former vice president of the Little Rock firm.

Also, James M. Hay, former U. S. Trust bookkeeper; W. E. Hutchenrider, former U. S. Trust [illegible] manager; Marshall A. Fuglaar Sr., and Sylvester Loughlin, both real estate appraisers, who did work for U. S. Automotive.

Federal Judge Allen B. Hannay issued bench warrants for arrests of all but Shoemake. Those indicted face a maximum sentence of 50 years in prison and $31,000 in fines if they are convicted on all of the charges.

Winnsboro Bale First At Memphis Cotton Exchange

WINNSBORO (Special) — Massony and Altick, Winnsboro cotton buyers, said today that the first Franklin parish bale of cotton was the first to reach the Memphis Cotton Exchange. It was auctioned Friday morning.

Goldsmith Dept. store, Memphis, purchased the 470 - pound bale for 75 cents a pound, or $352.50. It was grown by Dock Hatton, Winnsboro, Route 2. The DPL 15 cotton was picked over eight acres to get the bale, and was ginned last Monday at Planters' Gin.

After ginning was completed about 11 p.m. Monday night, J. E. Richardson, Jr., and W. H. Hastons transported it to Memphis, where they awaited the opening of offices there Tuesday morning.

Land Leveling For Irrigation Is On Increase

LAKE PROVIDENCE (Special) — Land leveling for irrigation seems to be on the increase for East Carroll Parish, according to the local Soil Conservation Service, Hugh O. Tidwell, supervisor.

Recent purchases of scrapers for land leveling purposes, and dirt moving machines were made recently by E. V. Parker, F. O. Blair, J. B. McPherson, and Hary S. Shields.

The Soil Conservation Service reports that detailed surveys have been made and stakes have been put out for land leveling on the farms owned by the aforementioned persons.

Negro Women Face Charges After Fracas

On Negro woman was arrested and another was hospitalized yesterday after an alleged ambush with a beer bottle.

Lucy Rodgers, 25, of 204 South 17th Street, told officers she was standing outside the Fred Johnson Cafe at the corner of Congo and Grammont when another Negro woman, Lola Ward, approached her. The Rodgers woman said they talked a while, and that the Ward woman then fired a shot.

Lola Ward, of 3601 Johnson, told officers the Rodgers woman had first hit her on the head with a bottle. The Ward woman was booked on charges of using a dangerous weapon. The Rodgers woman is in Conway Memorial Hospital with a bullet wound in the thigh, and upon dismissal she is wanted for aggravated battery.

Coroner 'Undetermined' In Case At New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 9 (AP) — Dr. Charles Odom, coroner of nearby Jefferson Parish, said today he signed a death certificate for Mrs. Ruth Tilotta listing the cause of death as "undetermined."

The parish sheriff's office said the listing may be a legal loophole that would keep the state from trying anyone in the death of the 31-year-old Houston, Tex., housewife.

If authorities cannot prove Mrs. Tilotta died as the result of foul play, Lt. Roy Jacobs said, "we would not have any case."

Police released a stocky shipyard worker early today after saying a "date" he picked up on the night of Mrs. Tilotta's death was not Mrs. Tilotta. He was not identified.

Hunters Find Body

Hunters found the body of Mrs. Tilotta, who had been visiting a sister near here, last Sunday in a jungle-like area west of the Mississippi River. The apparently was murdered on the night of July 19, officers said and her body dumped there.

"Although there is a strong probability that Mrs. Tilotta was murdered, we have not been able to confirm this. There were no breaks in the victim's skeletal structure," Dr. Odom said.

In another development, Jefferson deputies said several discrepancies had turned up in the statement of one person involved in the case. Officers said Houston police were checking on this aspect.

Funeral services were held for Mrs. Tilotta today in Lufkin, Tex. Her 38-year-old husband, Thomas Tilotta, a Houston garage owner, attended along with her father and other close relatives.

Lafayette's motto was "Cur Non?" meaning "Why Not?" It was engraved on a sword given him by the American Congress in 1779.

New East Carroll Teachers Named

LAKE PROVIDENCE (Special) — Additional faculty members for East Carroll Parish Schools were named at a recent meeting of the School Board, according to M. M. Walsworth, Superintendent.

They are Miss Mary Pat Littlefield, Lake Providence elementary; Mrs. Helen S. Guenard, English and social studies; Kenneth Brister, industrial arts and driver education, and Mrs. Virginia Brister, English and Spanish.

On an average, a ship leaves or enters the port of New York every 22 minutes of the day throughout the year.

Stock Market Slips Lower In Slow Period

NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (AP) — The stock market slipped a little lower today in the slowest session in five months.

Except for a few wide moving specialties, price changes either way were mostly under a point.

Motors were up fractions to a point. Steels were mixed. Metals and aircrafts gave some ground.

Volume of 1,570,000 shares compared with yesterday's 1,690,000 shares and was the smallest since 1,540,000 shares changed hands on last March 19.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 10 cents to $181.30, with industrials up 20 cents, rails off 20 cents and utilities off 20 cents.

Corporate and U.S. government bonds declined in dull trading.

Wool Letter

Courtesy of Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Bean

Commission houses became good buyers particularly in wool rallying the market somewhat. Locals and trade were modest sellers particularly near the close. Volume was moderate with the market closing about a half cent lower on balance. London futures held steady throughout the day closing unchanged with activity moderate.

The wool bureau predicted that a very tight supply stituation will result if U. S. imports later this year are not increased compared to first quarter imports. They estimate that consumption this year may be in the neighborhood of 275 million pounds whereas stocks available may be around 245 million leaving a deficit of 30 million pounds which must be filled by imports. The opening of the Australian auction season during the latter part of this month will most likely provide the key to our futures market.

Highlights From The Ticker Tape

Servel Incorporated announced that it has sold its air conditioning division to Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. for $4 million and plans to sell the rest of the company's physical assets.

Veterans — in a surprise move, the Senate voted to extend the Veterans Administration Home Loan Guaranty program for another year beyond its July 25 1958 expiration date.

Auto production—increased this week despite some plant shutdowns by General Motors Corp. and the DeSoto Division of Chrysler Corp. Assemblies for the industry as a whole are indicated at 120,225 cars, up slightly from last week and 11 per cent above the like 1956 period. Ford Motors Edsel Division continued to accelerate its operations, with this weeks output estimated at 3,124 cars, compared with 2,788 last week.

Bell Aircraft Corp. — acquired Birma Manufacturing Company of Buffalo and Greenfield, Ind. Birma, which becomes Bell's seventh wholly owned subsidiary, makes molded fibrous glass products.

U. S. Steel Corp. — chairman Roger M. Blough labeled — sheer economic superstition — the claim that the recent steel price increase was inflationary. He asserted the $6 a ton July boost, initiated by U. S. Steel has only a — negligible — effect on living costs since steel comprises only a tiny part of the consumer dollar. Mr. Blough was the first witness to appear before a Senate Judiciary subcommittee as it began a new phase in a study of industrial rice patterns. The subcommittee has been looking into prices generally, but is now starting an industry by industry study.

Federal Reserve — authorities approved a half-point boost in the discount fee charged on loans to member banks. The increase to 3½ per cent, from three per cent —goes into effect today at four of the Federal Reserve's 12 regional banks, Chicago, Kansas City, Minneapolis and Philadelphia. The advance is expected to spread throughout the system. It came quickly after major banks across the country raised the—prime—rate on loans to commercial borrowers to 4½ per cent, from four per cent. Reserve officials said the higher discount rate would tend to discourage member banks from borrowing at the Federal Reserve to increase their loans in the open market.

General Dynamics Corp—indicated net rose 42 per cent in the second quarter. Reported its backlog at the close of June amounted to $1,989,000,000 and in addition about $654 million in contracts were under negotiation at June 30. At the end of last year the backlog was $2,195,000,000 and the contracts under negotiation were $510 million. Frank Pace Jr., president, said sales and net earnings for the entire year will—substantially exceed those of the record year 1956.—The action by directors of Dynamics and Liquid Carbonic Corp. in approving in principle a transaction in which Liquid Carbonics would become a division of Dynamics, Mr. Pace said, was a most logical extension of present activities of General Dynamics.

Eaton Manufacturing Company together with Brazilian interest has formed a new automotive parts manufacturing firm to be known as Eaton's a Industria de Pecas e Acessorios with headquarters at Sao Paulo Brazil.

A majority of the stock in the new corporation is owned by Eaton.

Cotton

NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (AP)—Cotton futures declined in active trading today, with final prices 85 cents to $1.60 a bale lower.

The market experienced heavy selling from the opening bell. The pressure came from commission houses, New Orleans dealers and hedges.

Most of the selling, however, was caused by Thursday's announcement on the loan for the 1957 cotton crop. The news came after the market closed and today was the first time that the market had a chance to discount the development.

The secretary of agriculture announced that the loan rate for the 1957 crop would be based on 78 per cent of parity. Many traders had expected the basis to be 80 per cent or higher.

The market was also disturbed by pending legislation at Washington, which if enacted would provide cheaper cotton for domestic mills.

Crop and weather news remained favorable.

Futures closed 85 cents to $1.60 a bale lower than the previous close.

BURIAL TODAY

Roy Cookston, Ex-Jonesboro Resident, Dies

JONESBORO (Special) — Funeerl services were held today at 3 p.m. in Alexandria for Roy Cookston, 64, prominent local Republican leader who died Wednesday in the Pensacola, Fla., Naval hospital.

Burial followed in Jonesboro cemetery. Services were conducted at Hixson Brothers Funeral Home Chapel in Alexandria.

For some years Cookston operated a sawmill here.

Known locally as "Mr. Republican of the Eighth Congressional District," Cookston attended every GOP national political convention for the last 32 years.

Cookston devoted much of his later years to engineering. He developed a special grate for burning waste materials. This grate was installed in manufacturing plants throughout the U. S. and in some foreign nations.

He also published articles on combustion engineering and smog control.

A veteran of both World Wars, he commanded an attack transport at seven Pacific Island invasions during World War II.

After the war he was appointed by the War Assets Administration to serve in disposing of surplus ships and shipyards.

Cookston is survived by his widow of Jonesboro; one son, Roy P. Cookston of Dallas, Tex.; and a sister, Mrs. Pearly DeLaugher of Sparkman, Ark.

Cotton Letter

Pierce, Fenner & Beane Courtesy of Merrill, Lynch.

The market opened weaker following yesterday's announcement of a 79 per cent of parity support level or 32.31 basis middling inch. The trade was a small buyer on a scale down with commission house long liquidation, professional short selling and some hedging providing the offerings. The new crop months were again the weakest on the fear of favorable legislative developments in the next few days. Declines those months were $1.50 per bale after having been off as much as $2.00. With the price trend down there has been some chart selling in recent days.

Mills, Worth Street and exporters report generally slow conditions. Various trade sources are forecasting exports for the season of five million bales or quite possibly less. For the most part cotton weather and progress remains extremely favorable through the belt.
